On Viet Nam Situation

President Seen As Misinformed

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) — Mrs. Ngo Dinh Nhu says President Kennedy "is misinformed about the situation in Viet Nam and the solution should be to get better information."

"He is a politician and when he hears loud opposition he tries to appease it somehow," the petite, powerful first lady of South Viet Nam said on her arrival in Belgrade Wednesday.

That was her reaction when reporters asked her to comment on the concern voiced by Kennedy about the Buddhist situation in South Viet Nam.

Mrs. Nhu, 38, sister-in-law of President Ngo Dinh Diem also had a few words for Pope Paul VI. He also has expressed concern for the plight of the Buddhists. The South Vietnamese government has used strongarm methods in stamping out Buddhist demonstrations for more religious freedom.

She said the pontiff, although not misinformed, "gets easily worried."

Diem, Mrs. Nhu and her husband, the president's younger brother and close adviser, are Catholics. Mrs. Nhu is the official hostess for the bachelor president.

In recent television interviews, Kennedy suggested that certain personnel changes in the Diem government may be advisable to help solve the Buddhist crisis.

Mrs. Nhu declined to comment immediately on Kennedy's suggestion for personnel changes.

"We will wait for more details of the statement," she said. "If we can satisfy him, we will do so."

Mrs. Nhu is head of South Viet Nam's delegation to the 52nd session of the Interparliamentary Union which opened an eight-day meeting today. She plans to address the conference on what she described as the true picture of the situation in South Viet Nam.

Fifty-nine countries, including the United States, are attending the conference, which will discuss issues relating to racial discrimination, space law, peace and international cooperation. The U. S. delegation, includes Democratic Senators Mike Mansfield of Montana and Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts, the President's brother.

County Issue Warm

Road Aide To Keep Job; Democrats Hunt Lawyer

Political fires under the pot labeled "The Whitehouse Case" grew a little warmer today as Republicans declared the Columbiana County supervisor for the Ohio Highway Department will remain in office and Democrats moved to hire an attorney at Columbus to probe the Civil Service controversy.

Chester Whitehouse, candidate for re-election as president of East Palestine Council, will remain in the state post, according to Atty. Charles Pike, County Republican chairman, "but will not serve if elected."

Whitehouse, who quit as Council president Sept. 3 and who asked the county Board of Elections to withdraw his name from the Nov. 5 ballot, has been the target of Democrats who say his candidacy is contrary to Civil Service regulations.

At a meeting of Democrat executive and central committees Wednesday night at Lisbon, a resolution was approved to retain an attorney at Columbus to investigate the issue.

In a statement concerning the action, Don R. Gosney, county Democratic chairman, said three letters had been written to the Ohio Bureau of Personnel asking a study of the case, but no answer had been received.

"Since we had to live up to Civil Service laws, with the Republicans dismissing some county employees for 'political activity' because they passed out orange juice at the County Fair, we feel the Republicans should also meet the same requirements," Gosney declared.

"With the Republicans in complete control at Columbus," he added, "the committee feels we will have to take other action and retain special counsel."

Atty. Pike said Whitehouse, of

New Waterford Rd., a former potter who was appointed to the state post, will advise the county Board of Elections he is not "an active candidate," and if elected to the Council post, will not serve.

Atty. Pike said Charles Brant of East Palestine, a member of Council and also a State Highway Department engineer, will continue in his state post.

He said Brant, former East Liverpool resident who is now Second Ward Councilman and a candidate for re-election, will resign his Council seat and also advise the board he is not an "active" candidate and will not serve if elected.

More Showers Due

Then Mercury Drop

The first substantial showers in two weeks dampened the Tri-State District early today and the Ohio weatherman said there will be more this afternoon and tonight, bringing a temperature drop.

Scattered thundershowers this afternoon will precede the decline in temperatures with a few showers tonight as the mercury will go to 46 to 52 for the night's low range.

Highway Worker Hurt In Bulldozer Mishap

A 46-year-old Pennsylvania Highway Department worker, tossed from a runaway bulldozer near Hookstown Wednesday afternoon, was in "fair" condition today at City Hospital.

John Hare of Fombell suffered abrasions and contusions of the right hip, ankle, foot and head in the mishap. He was admitted at 2:30 p. m.

Sinatra Host To Gangster, Nevada Says

Singer Faces Loss Of Gaming License Under Complaint

CARSON CITY, Nev. (AP) — Frank Sinatra, the gangling singer who branched out as an actor, businessman and gambling impresario, has been threatened with loss of his Nevada gaming license. He is accused of allegedly allowing "one of America's crime overlords" to stay on the premises of the Cal-Neva gambling lodge.

Sinatra, in New York Wednesday night, was not available for comment.

The Nevada Gaming Control Board said Sinatra's guest, at the showman's Lake Tahoe casino on the California-Nevada state line was Sam Giancana.

A five-point complaint submitted to the State Gaming Commission in Carson City Wednesday described Giancana, 54, of Oak Park, Ill., as "one of the 12 overlords of American crime." On Aug. 6 the Justice Department said Giancana was one of the rulers of the "Casa Nostra — Our Thing" crime syndicate.

Nevada keeps a "Black Book" that currently lists 11 persons, one of them Giancana, as persona non grata. Those listed are banned from any Nevada gaming establishment. Knowingly permitting one of them on the premises is grounds for license revocation, though it is not a criminal offense.

The gaming board's complaint charges Sinatra knowingly played host to Giancana at Cal-Neva, located about 20 miles from Carson City, between last July 17 and July 28. Specifically he is charged with allowing Giancana to stay in one of the chalets adjoining the casino.

Atty. Pike said Charles Brant of East Palestine, a member of Council and also a State Highway Department engineer, will continue in his state post.

He said Brant, former East Liverpool resident who is now Second Ward Councilman and a candidate for re-election, will resign his Council seat and also advise the board he is not an "active" candidate and will not serve if elected.

Kennedy Due Visit By Tito Next Month

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Tito of Communist Yugoslavia will make an informal visit to Washington to confer with President Kennedy on Oct. 17, the White House announced today.

The announcement of plans for Tito's first visit with an American president since 1960—when he got together with former President Dwight Eisenhower in New York—said the talks will involve "a full exchange of views on a number of matters of interest to both countries."

Tito will stop in Washington en route to the United Nations General Assembly meeting in New York. The Washington stopover will follow a tour of Latin America by Tito.

Crucible's 'Normal'

Full crews reported for the 3-11 shift Wednesday night at the Crucible Steel Co. at Midland, where a "wildcat strike" had idled about 700 in the hot and cold strip departments Monday night. A company spokesman said the work stoppage has ended. Steelworkers Local 1212 ordered the men to return to their jobs yesterday.

40 Killed In French Plane Crash

36 British Tourists Among Victims As Craft Hits Mountain

PLY, France (AP) — A French airliner struck a mountain in southern France today and rescuers who reached the site later reported all 40 persons aboard had perished. There were 36 passengers, all British tourists, and four crew members.

A ground team which had set out from Py for the wreckage of the plane, on rugged 4,800-foot Roc de la Rouquette, advised Gendarmerie headquarters by radio that all aboard had been killed when the plane slammed into the mountain shortly after midnight.

The plane was bound from London to Perpignan. Py is 32 miles southwest of Perpignan.

The plane took off from London's Gatwick Airport Wednesday night. Llabanere Airport near Perpignan said it lost contact with the plane during its approach to the airport.

Heavy storms swept the region as the plane headed into the Perpignan area.

The twin-engine plane was owned by Airmaatic, a French airline.

In the past dozen years, the mountainous region of Perpignan near the Mediterranean has been the site of eight plane crashes that killed 97 persons.

Most recently, in October, 1961, a British plane went down near Prades, killing 34 persons. Last January, a French military plane crashed, killed 12.

Mother Tells Dad's Cruelty To Hlista

BEAVER — The widow of slain Police Chief Walter Hlista, 44, testified today to the "cruel treatment" of their son by his father at the boy's first degree murder trial in Beaver County Court.

The defendant's mother collapsed in tears after her appearance on the stand as a defense witness and Judge Robert McCreary declared a recess until she could compose herself.

She related the elder Hlista struck Walter Hlista Jr., 19, with a "riot" club previous to the murder Feb. 28 and the policeman's equipment was displayed.

The dead man had been police chief of Harmony Township.

A defense psychiatrist testified earlier that young Hlista had no control over his behavior and couldn't distinguish right from wrong on the night his father was shot to death.

Dr. Herbert Thomas of Pittsburgh was a key witness for the defense, which opened its case yesterday.

Thomas said his studies indicated there was no premeditation of murder on the part of young Hlista. The psychiatrist added that, in his opinion, the father has been hard and cruel with the son.

Killed In Accident

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP)—Poor visibility during heavy rain contributed, the Highway Patrol believes, to the fatal accident on U.S. 23 south of here Wednesday night. Mrs. Mary Evalene Green, 58, of nearby Galena, was killed when her car skidded across the median strip and collided with an auto operated by Richard Lee Roberts, 28, of Rt. 3, Upper Sandusky. Taken to Jane Case Hospital here, Roberts was reported in satisfactory condition despite a slight skull fracture and back injuries.

East End Man Faces Arrest In Tax Case

Charges Against 2 Others Dismissed; 3rd's Hearing Due

A bench warrant was ordered issued against an East End man who did not appear in Municipal Court this morning for a hearing on a charge he failed to file a final city income tax return on 1962 earnings.

Judge Samuel M. Chertoff ordered the warrant for John Bell, 1160 Harker Ave., on whom a summons was served Sept. 6 by Baliff Wilbur Taylor ordering him to appear this morning.

Charges against William F. Azdell of Harding Ave., a Post Office supervisor who had served five days in city jail early in July for two violations, and Don Black, 1546 Pennsylvania Ave., were dismissed on payment of costs.

A hearing for Charles Hayes, 1210 Erie St., was continued until Wednesday. All three were accused of failing to file a final return on 1962 and an estimate of 1963 earnings.

Meanwhile, Tax Commissioner D. G. Wilkinson said 11 more affidavits charging violations of the tax law would be filed this afternoon. It will boost to 41 the number hailed into court in recent weeks on tax violations.

Eight are accused of failing to file both the 1962 final return and the 1963 declarations, one is charged with failing to file an estimate for this year and two with failing to make final return on last year's income.

The names of the defendants will not be released until after summonses have been served.

Azdell, who pleaded not guilty this morning, told Judge Chertoff he never refused to pay the tax and never "has beat anyone out of money."

The superintendent of mails at the Post Office said tax funds help pay the salaries of some officials who do not prosecute criminals. "I haven't got a chance. I can't get a lawyer and I am being legally robbed," Azdell declared. Judge Chertoff told Azdell he was confusing the issue.

When Azdell indicated a willingness to pay the amount due on both charges, Judge Chertoff said he would dismiss the cases.

"All right. I'll do it," Azdell said and left with Wilkinson for the tax office where he wrote a check for the entire amount.

Black presented evidence that he had paid on both charges and the cases were dropped.

Hayes told the court he had filed the returns but admitted he hadn't paid. Hayes said he planned to pay.

80 Votes Counted

More Get Behind Test Ban Treaty

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate drive for ratification of the limited nuclear test ban treaty appeared today to have picked up more supporters.

Democratic and Republican leaders, working hand in hand to steer the agreement through the Senate, counted almost 80 votes in favor of the treaty to prohibit all tests except underground.

Only three days ago, an Associated Press survey found 73 senators were for it. A two-thirds majority is needed for ratification—67 if all 100 senators vote.

The drive got another big push Wednesday—from President Kennedy and Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois.

In a letter, Kennedy gave the Senate "unqualified and unequivocal assurances" that there will be no letup in the defense buildup if the treaty is put into effect.

But it was Dirksen who gave the so-called "great debate" its drama.

In a frequently impassioned speech, he threw his unqualified support behind ratification with reservations or any formal understandings.

"We are fully assured of a program that will keep us strong in the nuclear field and give us the requisite strength to meet any challenge to our security and our vital interest," Dirksen declared after reading Kennedy's statement to the Senate.

Whether the President's letter or Dirksen's speech changed any minds was not known for certain.

However, Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., who has indicated doubts about the treaty, said the President's letter "should leave no doubt about the determination of the President to carry out in good faith the assurances requested by the Senate."

Kennedy, in his letter addressed to Dirksen and Sen. Mike Mansfield, the Senate Democratic leader, sought to allay every concern which has been raised about the treaty in Senate debate.

He gave "unqualified and unequivocal" assurances — which Dirksen had asked—that:

1. Underground testing will be pursued "vigorously and diligently" and strong laboratories maintained in a vigorous program of weapons development.

2. The United States remains ready to resume atmospheric testing immediately if the Soviets should break the treaty.

3. Facilities for the detection of violations will be expanded and improved.

4. The treaty in no way limits presidential authority to use nuclear weapons "for the defense of the United States and its allies, if a situation should develop requiring such a grave decision."

The latter assurance was obviously aimed at reducing votes for a reservation proposed by Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., to write these assurances into the resolution of ratification.

Various entertainment acts will be presented. Robert Gray will serve as master of ceremonies. A scout sing also will be held. Parking is invited.

The Boy Scouts will set up tents and camp at the park over the weekend while the cubs will participate in a program Saturday afternoon.

Registration will be open from Friday at 6 p. m. to Saturday at 10 a. m.

Cub Scouts will present a circus-type show Saturday afternoon at 1. They will give skits and playlets in costumes. Handicraft items will be displayed.

A parade will be held through the main section of Chester at 7 p. m. The units will form on Virginia Ave. and march to the park. Numerous units other than scouts, such as drill squads,

Pupils Mass On Campus In Outbreak

Chant 'We Don't Want To Integrate' Birmingham Quiet

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — A major anti-integration demonstration erupted at Murphy High School in Mobile this morning, breaking the relative calm on the Alabama school front.

Residents in the area of the big Mobile high school said that pupils massed on the campus and began chanting, "Two, four, six, eight. We don't want to integrate."

Police called for fire trucks. Newsmen were barred from the area.

It was the first major outbreak at Mobile since two Negroes started attending classes in Murphy Tuesday.

In Birmingham, there were no incidents when five Negroes resumed classes at three previously white schools. A caravan of cars carrying anti-integrationists drove back and forth in front of West End High School where a thousand white pupils have been staging a boycott. Persons in the cars waved Confederate banners, but the demonstration was peaceful.

A slim, gray-haired teacher broke up a potential demonstration at a Birmingham high school not affected by the desegregation. Approximately 60 pupils gathered on a street corner across from Phillips High School and started waving Confederate flags and placards. Suddenly the teacher appeared and snatched the banners, then marched the pupils into the school.

School officials in Birmingham were seeking to curb a wholesale boycott by white pupils. There was talk of a private school movement.

In the wake of a school board warning against truancy, several thousand white persons jammed an auto race track Wednesday night to protest integration and plan for private schools.

Driver Hurt Near Rogers

City Man Charged In Second Mishap

A 36-year-old Lisbon man was injured early today when his pickup truck overturned on Route 154 at the outskirts of Rogers, according to the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon, which reported two other area mishaps Wednesday, one involving a city man.

Earl C. Adams, 322 N. Market St., Lisbon, was treated at Salem City Hospital after his truck upset about 2:20 a. m. when he lost control.

He suffered lacerations of the face and ear and bruises of the body and leg. Officers said the truck received considerable damage.

John Raymond Green, 23, of 812 Green Ln., was cited after his 1955 coach overturned on Route 170 at 4 p. m. about five miles south of Negley.

Officers said Green was headed south when the car went off the right side of the road, then to the left side and overturned, hitting a fence post. Green was not hurt, the patrol said.

There was moderate damage to the auto, and he was charged with driving left of center and driving without a license.

Joyce Amelia Mohr, 25, of Negley R. D. 1 escaped injury when her 1958 sedan ran off Route 170 about a mile south of East Palestine last night at 11:35 a. m. and struck a tree. There was considerable damage to the car, the patrol said.

Wellsville Yule Lighting Plans Set By C. Of C.

Plans for erection of new Christmas lighting and a membership campaign were outlined at a meeting of the Wellsville Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors Wednesday night at the Carnegie Library.

New lights, which were displayed earlier this year, have been delivered. The garland-type decorations will be strung across Main St.

They will be installed by Nov. 30. The committee will have the necessary lines strung across the street to hang the lights.

A general solicitation of merchants and others will open Oct. 1 to help defray the cost of the decorations.

A membership drive will be held next month. A tentative meeting is scheduled for Oct. 3 with a group of prospective members, some of whom are former Jaycee members.

Those attending will be told the purpose of the Chamber its future plans.

The board also voted to make arrangements for a training conference course under the direction of the State Department of Education. A meeting will be held with a state representative to determine what type of courses can be offered.

The board will meet again either Oct. 2 or 9. John Bryer is president.

Farm Bureau's Board To Meet

LISBON — The Board of Directors of the Columbiana County Farm Bureau Federation will meet tonight at 8:30 in the bureau's offices on S. Market St. Twenty attended the legislative committee meeting of Tuesday evening at the offices.

Dean Simeral, assistant director of public affairs of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation, discussed electric meter demands and legislative issues concerning farmers.

Five from the county attended the Northeast Regional Cabinet meeting in Talmage Tuesday afternoon. They included:

Herbert Frischkorn of Wellsville, legislative chairman; Mrs. Marjory Yaggi of Alliance R.D. 5, women's committee chairman; John Hawkins of New Waterford, front-line committee chairman; Marion Sanor of East Rochester, representative, and Mrs. Evelyn Hoopes of Beloit R. D. 2, organization director.

Chester Brotherhood Sponsors Corn Roast

Thirty-seven attended a family corn roast of the Men's Brotherhood of the Chester First Christian Church Wednesday night at Tomlinson Run State Park.

The Rev. E. D. Gleaton gave the invocation. Forrest McDonald was in charge of arrangements.

The group will help pay expenses of a delegation to the Christian Churches state convention Oct. 24 at Princeton. Albert Kell, president, was in charge. The group will meet Oct. 9.

Jury Rules Drowning Death As Accidental

NEW CUMBERLAND — A coroner's jury Wednesday night ruled accidental drowning in the death of Mrs. Helen Hammond Williamson, 63, wife of G. Stewart Williamson of Steubenville, on Aug. 27.

Her body was found in the backwaters of Tomlinson Run Creek along Route 66 by a hunter. The jury was impaneled by Squire John D. Herron, Hancock County coroner. The inquest had been postponed because of the working schedules of jury members.

Calcutta Club Assigns Duty

Mrs. Rita Veness, new president of the Calcutta Mothers Club, announced standing committee chairmen at the initial fall meeting Wednesday afternoon in the school cafeteria. About 65 attended.

Chairmen include Mrs. Beulah Holden, program; Mrs. Martha Mitcheson, ways and means; Mrs. Grace Paul, welfare; Mrs. Dorothy Och, hospitality, and Mrs. Gerry Schneider, PTA luncheons.

Mrs. Veness introduced Calvin Graber, new principal, who spoke briefly, and Theodore Taylor, principal of the Beaver Public School, who asked members to support the 7-mill levy to be presented at the November election.

Bill Cassidy outlined plans for social dancing classes to be started in the near future under the sponsorship of the club.

Plans were completed for a rummage sale the week of Oct. 7 in the Rappert Building.

It was announced that the Calcutta PTA's first fall meeting will be held Monday night when open house will be observed. The fourth grade homeroom mothers will serve refreshments.

Donations were made to the Child Counseling Center and the "Rainy Day" fund for each room in the school.

Room visitation will precede the meeting Oct. 9 with Mrs. Paul speaker.

Auctioned By Police

CLEVELAND (AP) — Ninety-six abandoned cars were auctioned off at the Cleveland police pound Wednesday and netted $1,600 for the police pension fund.

Patrolman Mel Haeflinger, the auctioneer, sold a 1957 Ford with little more than a nameplate on it for $81. But he had a sale that topped that one: "A shell of a Chevy" with no motor, no radiator and no wheels. The price was $1.

Midland Club Sets Project

A rummage sale was set for Oct. 1 at the Brozic Building on Midland Ave. at a meeting of the Midland Band Boosters Tuesday night at the high school.

Mrs. Frank Pedro and Mrs. Frank Sepos will be co-chairmen, assisted by Mrs. Frank Lavrusky. Hours are 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.

It was decided to postpone the sale of all-occasion cards, and concentrate on the sale of Christmas cards, wrappings and ribbon.

Richard Bailey was named to place visiting cheerleaders for the holiday basketball tournament in the homes of Midland residents, and John Waddingham was asked to arrange a skating party for the band members for one of the last two Sundays in October.

Mrs. Pedro, Mrs. Richard Bailey, Mrs. Sam Mamula, Mrs. William Petrosky and John Wadding-ham were named chaperones for this week's game. Pete Vuyakovich, president, presided.

The next meeting is Oct. 8 at the high school.

In The Sweet Name Of Religion

Reports on distorted interpretations of the Supreme Court ruling that public officials cannot prescribe prayers or other religious exercises for students in schools supported by public taxes suggest it may take another ruling to clear up the matter.
The court's ruling last June attempted to clear up confusion that grew out of its ruling in June 1962 on a similar issue. A special attempt was made the second time to show that only one thing was being barred the first time—prayers prescribed by public officials.
The plain and unmistakable conclusion was that prayer in the United States was a personal religious exercise that could not be controlled or influenced by public officials; that this was the intent of the First Amendment and was the nation's protection against mingling church and state in this free country.

IT IS unconstitutional for any governmental unit to require Bible reading or recitation of the Lord's Prayer. This was the gist of last June's ruling.

The gist of the June 1962 ruling was that it was unconstitutional for a state board of regents to require the use of a 22-word school prayer.

In neither ruling was personal prayer ruled unconstitutional. The way was left open for a teacher or a student to pray, though it may yet have to be decided whether a teacher becomes a public official when presiding over a classroom.

But there was a ruling against religion, no ruling against praying, no ruling against religious exercises—only against government-prescribed religious observances.
In the United States no politician can tell anyone what to do in a matter of religion. "Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion."
Reading some of the tortured interpretations of what the Supreme Court tried to do, a thoughtful American can wonder only what some of the misinterpreters are trying to do.

IN THE sweet name of religion, are some of them perhaps chipping away at the U.S. Supreme Court and, beyond that, at the foundation of a society that upholds itself by respect for law?

If they have read the two Supreme Court rulings, they cannot believe the highest tribunal showed hostility to religion—all or any religion.

It showed hostility only to the unconstitutional practice of letting public officials prescribe religious exercises.

Another Service Is Added

Transfer of Social Security Administration services for northern Hancock County from Wheeling to East Liverpool promises to provide more convenience and efficiency for Chester and Newell area residents.

The move points up anew the close ties and inter-relationships between East Liverpool and its neighbors.

Besides social visitations and traveling over state and city boundaries for recreational pursuit, there is more "official" co-operation between fire departments and police agencies and other governmental functions, not to mention the innumerable economic links in commerce, finance and industry.

As a commercial and residential center, East Liverpool has in recent years become more and more aware of the interdependence between the city and its nearby communities and suburban areas.

Those in the city and in surrounding areas with real understanding of the future recognize that this interdependence must continue to expand if there is to be progress beneficial to all.

Addition of Social Security office facilities adds to the service role East Liverpool offers the area, just as the broadened scope of the Community Fund brings in new district agencies for a more unified and efficient program.

Too Much Risk For Enterprise

Any item in business news becomes an automatic footnote on the story of the free enterprise system's competition with collectivized enterprise.

Douglas Aircraft Co. notified the Federal Aviation Agency it would not bid on a prime contract to develop a supersonic commercial airplane for the United States. It had been proposed that the federal government pay 75 per cent of the development cost up to $750 million, with the bidder winning the prime contract to pay the rest.

The "rest," in this instance, might add up to $250 million, perhaps more. Douglas Aircraft, a vital unit in aircraft frame production in the United States, said it was unwilling to risk that much. It would be glad to help but not on terms that might injure the company.

The urgency in the matter is the fact a British-French combination already is working on a supersonic commercial airliner, using the backing of its two semisocialized governments to give it an edge over private enterprise.

Pan American World Airways has ordered 10 of the foreign planes to be built in this collectivized manner and other U.S. airlines have shown a lively interest in the planes, not scheduled for delivery until late in this decade at the earliest.

The question is whether the United States can compete with this sort of thing even if it puts up 75 percent of the money.

First You See It, Then . . .

After the House Ways and Means Committee's Democratic majority had spiked a Republican proposal to the reduced federal spending to tax reduction, it salved its conscience by a warning that any increase in federal revenue should be used to eliminate budget deficits and reduce public debt.

This is analogous to a dietitian telling a fat woman starting on a reducing diet to give all leftover food to starving orphans. There isn't going to be any increase in federal revenue. Democrats in Congress are out to shrink revenue, not add to it.

It's only Republicans and a few renegade Democrats who have been concerned about shrinking federal spending in ratio to shrinkage in federal income. These financial conservatives never can be made to believe that tax relief makes sense when the government is running in the red, unless there is a corresponding amount of relief from spending.

This kind of living off the cuff is intolerable everywhere else, and its critics think it is intolerable in government. If taxes that are too high for taxpayers are still not high enough to pay for government, then government should cut its spending coat to fit its tax cloth.

It follows that if the cloth itself is reduced in size, the coat must be reduced accordingly. But it does not follow in the Wonderland confusion of New Frontier money magic. First you see it, then you . . .

Purely Personal

If you wear neckties, as most men do, you wonder about the current narrow style. Old-fashioned wide ties can be cut down, but when the style changes back to wide, what then? Will it be like the change to long skirts from short—a new set of ties?

As a cynic about such things, I will believe there is going to be a tax cut when and if at midnight some April 15 our little household has enough money left over after the annual raid by the publicans to buy one or more of several dozen things it has done without because the great, good government had to be paid off first.

I have just visited with a former associate who turned his passion for horse-race betting into a career as a race steward and handicapper, which is the same as it would be if I turned my passion for staying in bed into a job testing mattresses.

A master stroke of judgment in preparing the souvenir program for Canton's National Football League Hall of Fame dedication was inclusion of the names of all artisans and laborers who worked on the structure, so posterity can give them credit for its perfection.

I think it is funny when people who believe in going to the mat in their own affairs criticize former victims of such tactics for adapting them to their own use. I also think it's funny when Roy Cohn, one-time investigator for that Senate committee which rode roughshod over people, complains he is being roughshod over in a federal indictment for things like perjury and conspiracy to commit fraud.

They're finding evidence in the new automatic data processing center for federal income tax returns that most taxpayers are honest, though dumb; that we make mistakes in the government's favor as often as we make in our own. But quick, Mortimer, when we bloop in your favor do you send back the money as fast as you will collect it if we err in our favor?

Some Problems Are Hard To Explain

Kennedy Faces Labor Front Break

By Victor Riesel

For the first time since John Kennedy took over the White House there is an open break on the New Frontier's labor front over support of the President for reelection in '64.

At least one influential labor leader has been quietly urging his colleagues to swing from the administration to the Republican party. Soon he will speak out openly—for in a few weeks he will confer with Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, the man he backs for the GOP nomination.

This unionist is Lee Minton, a national vice president of the AFL-CIO, president of the Glass Bottle Blowers Association and one of the most respected of the "younger" group in labor's 29-man high council.

For the moment, the 51-year-old Philadelphian is going it alone. But there are others—not many—but some, who are ready for a break with the Kennedy administration. If they do not split openly these others will "sit on their hands" during the campaign.

Most of the latter are from the construction and building unions.

LEE MINTON is known to his fellow labor leaders as a chap who reasons out his moves before he makes them—and there are many motivations for his surprising open opposition to a President who has been executive in laboring than any chief closer to including Franklin Delano Roosevelt.

As Minton sees it—and as he has been telling his people—the White House has interfered too frequently in labor-management negotiations.

"I want to bring these negotiations," says Minton, "back from the political tables to the labor-management tables."

He is opposed to what insiders call the "third man theme" named by the government moving in on negotiations either directly or through the frequent appointment of presidential labor-management boards.

Minton believes this becomes all too political and wants labor relations "taken out of the hands of the politicians."

Also, he says quite frankly he is for a two-party system. And within the Republican party he is for Nelson Rockefeller over Sen. Barry Goldwater because "the governor has taken positions closer to labor's point of view."

MINTON DOESN'T appear to have any personal animus towards the senator from Arizona—just policy differences on labor issues and conservatism.

How will this be reflected in one of the first tough skirmishes for the Republican nomination—the New Hampshire primary?

Minton is ready to aid the drive to win the poll for Rockefeller. So are other labor men—including an important bloc in the New England state itself.

This will be of considerable help to Rockefeller in the "Granite State," where Goldwater is considerably ahead.

New Hampshire is not as rural as many folks think. It has a substantial labor vote. If Rockefeller is able to rally this labor vote he could cut into the Arizona lead.

And there are Republican labor votes in such cities as Manchester, Nashua, Keene and Portsmouth. There are many small plants in and around Manchester.

The big industrial community is Nashua, once a textile center. Keene is considerable "light industry." Portsmouth has the Navy yard with the usual complement of machinists, mechanics, electricians and other craft workers. There also are construction unions whose members work on the state and federal projects and on the highways. And of course, the usual building crafts.

THESE WILL BE contacted by the New York building and construction trades whose leaders have been close to Nelson Rockefeller for decades—especially Peter Brennan, leader of the New York Building and Construction Trades Council. They gave Rockefeller strong support in his gubernatorial reelection campaign last year.

Just how much aid these unions can give Rockefeller against Goldwater no one can estimate because the New Hampshire primaries early next March are some six months distant.

Many of the New Hampshire working people are conservative and may not buck Goldwater at all. But the vital political phenomenon is the fact that important labor leaders—some publicly, privately—are breaking with the administration over many issues.

If the political race next year is as tight as it was back there in '60, John Kennedy may lose some states he carried against Dick Nixon.

And the swing of a few thousand voters in some of these states, could make history.

Odd Facts

One comparatively new source of electric power is coming out of laboratories — a battery that uses bacteria or enzymes to decompose material and release electricity and is really the same process that goes on in a septic tank. The material can be sawdust, corncobs, sewage, sea water, or almost anything containing decaying matter. The Navy already has such a battery producing sufficient power for radio beacons and signal lights in buoys.

The Democratic Way

U.S. Political Foes Remain Friends

There appeared last Saturday in the press and on TV throughout the country a photograph showing Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., chatting with President Kennedy after a White House ceremony honoring a retired Air Force general. The news dispatches said Mr. Kennedy, looking over the crowd, saw David Lawrence the senator — who could be his Republican opponent next year for the presidency — and, calling him by his first name, summoned him to his side to share the limelight.

The incident was no surprise to anyone who is familiar with Washington customs, but it probably was puzzling to too many people who seem to think that, because persons differ in politics, they can't be friends. Indeed, as Mr. Kennedy called out to "Barry," there was some laughter and one correspondent wrote that the President, "presumably aware of the political incongruity," hastened to say: "We are all friends."

It was an incident which emphasizes that, under the American system of government, political differences can be sharp, but most of the men who hold office or aspire to elected posts realize that personal feelings must always be secondary, if not repressed, and that what counts is the thoughtful presentation of one's side of a controversial question.

Again and again, not only in federal election contests but in state and local campaigns, men who have been intimate friends find themselves running for office on opposite sides.

THE PUBLIC may have a hard time being convinced from some of the speeches that there is no deep-seated personal antagonism but there are few instances where the loser of an election is not among the first to extend his congratulations to the winner.

It always has been the view of this writer that controversies should be reported and analyzed in the press, too, without regard to personal feelings, though it's hard sometimes to get readers to believe such an impersonal approach is possible.

The last 10 men who have been president of the United States and whom this writer has known seemed to be likeable persons, but, when certain criticisms were written about every one of them, some readers took it for granted each time that personal antagonism was involved.

Thus, for example, letters came in nowadays which use the word "hate." It's stated that nobody could criticize a president without having some feeling of hate or dislike.

Such letters are depressing because the American system of public debate and a free press apparently is not thoroughly understood or appreciated by the authors of such missives.

PRESIDENT KENNEDY, for example, is a very likeable person. This writer considers him a man with a conscientious desire to serve the public. As a member of the House of Representatives and as a senator, Mr. Kennedy became known in official circles, and reporters had a chance to talk with him and get acquainted.

If a poll were taken among the writers who criticize him, it might well be found that his most vehement critics never have had and do not have now any personal dislike for the President. He truly has an attractive personality and so has his brother, the attorney general.

But those who analyze the news feel a responsibility to the constituency they serve — particularly to readers who really want an evaluation of issues and events based on history, on honest judgment and on convictions formed over years of observation and awareness of the difference between sound and unsound public policies.

To color the argument, however, with one's personal likes or dislikes is to ignore the main reason why public confidence is reposed in a free press.

A view expressed by a news writer or analyst may subsequently be proved wrong, but there's also a chance it may be proved right.

If it is wrong, no harm is done because it will be disregarded by the persons in office who have the final responsibility for the action taken.

IF THE CRITICISM happens to be right, it could serve as a deterrent if the issue arises again. These are matters that have nothing to do with likes or dislikes, with personal feelings or emotions.

One can like President Kennedy very much and still write impersonally about policies that need revision. In fact, if there were no adverse criticism, there would be little chance to make revisions opportunely, and the public interest would not be served.

Sen. Goldwater may be Mr. Kennedy's opponent next year, and it may be taken for granted the two men will emphatically disagree and earnestly criticize one another in the campaign. But — and let the portrait painters of America's "image" abroad take notice — the two political adversaries will remain friends.

Priceless Insight

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

The dispute about the nuclear test ban treaty, even though the Senate seems certain to approve it, gives a priceless insight into how far off world disarmament is.

President Kennedy and his advisers — diplomatic, military and scientific—all think it is to this country's interest to agree to a limited test ban with Russia. But others, in and out of Congress, have doubts and forebodings.

The doubters persist in their misgivings about the treaty — which prohibits testing in the atmosphere, outer space and under water but permits it underground — despite assurances given the Senate by:

1. Secretary of State Dean Rusk —that the United States could detect at once any Russian try at cheating.

2. Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara—that the United States is, and will remain, superior to Russia in nuclear weapons, even under a test ban.

3. Dr. Glenn T. Seaborg, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission—that any risks to this country under the treaty would be "minor."

All this is not assurance enough for the troubled ones. They express suspicions and fears that the Russians some how, some day, can use the ban to American disadvantage.

Not long ago in this country there was widespread contempt for Russian abilities. That attitude, never valid, has disintegrated in just 14 years under three great shocks:

1949—When the Russians exploded their first atomic bomb; 1953—When they exploded their first hydrogen bomb just one year after they sent the first satellite, sputnik, around the earth.

Some of the misgivings about the test ban treaty now may be attributed to a reverse psychology. Not only fear of Russian ability but even an inferiority about it.

For instance fear that the Russians are so clever they can hoodwink this country and surge ahead in nuclear weapons even though under the same limitation the treaty would put on this country.

Carry this attitude one more step: While cheating under the treaty could be detected, as Rusk said, since devices could record an atmospheric blast, any cheating under a disarmament agreement would be far harder to spot.

It therefore follows from the misgivings about the test ban that if this country ever undertook a disarmament agreement with Russia shudders of doubt would shake the United States and perhaps make such an agreement impossible.

For this reason any hope of world disarmament in the foreseeable future looks like a pipe dream. But the alternative to disarmament is continuing armament.

In short this country and the world, despite the limited test ban treaty which has been called a first possible step toward better understandings, seem headed for an arms race for years to come.

West Virginia Art To Be Shown In Chester Post

The Hancock County Centennial Art Exhibit, featuring nine West Virginia artists, will be displayed at the Chester American Legion home Sunday through Sept. 22.

The exhibit is sponsored locally by the Chester Women's Club, the Chester Women's Civic Club, the Chester Arts Club and the Chester Junior Women's Club.

A punch bowl will be a feature of the opening day of the exhibit, when a limited number of souvenir catalogs will be sold.

The exhibit will be open Sunday from 3 to 5 p. m.; Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday from 6 to 7:30 p. m., and Thursday, Friday and Saturday from 7 to 9 p. m.

City Air Officer Heads Squadron

Lt. Col. John E. Savage, son of Mrs. Velma Savage, 234 W. 7th St., and Michael Savage of Sandusky, has been appointed commander of the 18th Communications Squadron at Westover (Mass.) Air Force Base.

Born in East Liverpool Aug. 23, 1920, he attended Duquesne University and Ohio State University before enlisting in the Army Air Corps in May 1942. He received his commission through the cadet program.

During duty at Lockbourne AFB at Columbus he and the former Sara L. Hickling of East Liverpool were married.

Col. Savage was sent to duty in India in October 1944 and returned to the U.S. at the end of the war for his discharge in 1946.

After two years as a ceramics laboratory technician, he was recalled to active duty and later was transferred to Nogoya, Japan, as chief of the radar evaluation section. He was first assigned to Westover in 1952 as a C-97 pilot. He was assigned to 8th Air Force Headquarters in January 1961 as chief of the communications division operations branch, a post he held until his present assignment.

He has more than 4,000 hours flying time in his 21 years service. Col. and Mrs. Savage and their son and five daughters reside at Chicopee Falls, Mass.

West Point Mothers Club Elects Officers

WEST POINT — New officers were elected when the West Point Mothers Club held its first meeting of the new term Wednesday afternoon at the school.

Named were Mrs. Annabelle White, president; Mrs. Ruth Jones, vice president; Mrs. Betty Conrad, treasurer, and Mrs. Marjorie Whitla, secretary. Next meeting is Oct. 9.

Trade School Plans Car Mechanics Class

An evening course in Auto Mechanics I is being offered area students and adults at Weir High School in Weirton in the Hancock County trades school program.

The class will begin Sept. 24 if a minimum enrollment is achieved. Classes will be held Tuesday and Thursday nights from 6 to 10 for approximately 34 weeks.

One high school credit will be given for the course. Anyone interested may call Weirton 748-5550.

Club To Meet At Salineville

The Salineville Ladies Civic Club will meet Tuesday night at the American Legion hall with Mrs. Bea Hazlett, president, in charge.

Fall projects were discussed at a meeting of the Hilltoppers Club Tuesday night with Mrs. Donna Bridge of Foundry Hill. Mrs. Olive Bridge and Mrs. Edythe Bridge received gifts from secret pals.

Mrs. James Roberts, president, was in charge. Lunch was served by the hostess. The club will meet Oct. 8 with Mrs. Frances Wilson of Foundry Hill.

Mrs. Clyde Ferguson is convalescing at City Hospital after an operation.

15 At Wellsville Air Patrol Event

Fifteen attended a meeting of Wellsville Composite Squadron 1303, Civil Air Patrol, Wednesday night at Daw Junior High School. This included 11 cadets and four senior members.

Lt. Gust L. Steubenville was a guest. Reports were heard on the summer encampment held at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base. David Tarnovich showed pictures he took of the encampment.

Regular classes will resume next week. The headquarters will be moved to Johnston Airport at Hillcrest.

A room at the airport will be remodeled. Flooring and windows already have been donated. Work will start within the next week. The unit will meet again Wednesday night at 7 at the school.

Upper Hancock Speech Clinic Set

A speech clinic for northern Hancock County youngsters will be resumed Saturday morning at Chester High School by the Hancock County Society for Crippled Children and Adults.

Thomas Richmond of Beaver, speech and hearing therapist for Beaver County, will conduct the classes to be held every other Saturday.

The clinic will start at 10. Any parents interested in registering their youngsters may notify Mrs. William Mountjoy at the Chester Central School or Mrs. Albert Logston, 922 Grant St., Newell. Residents of Pughtown and New Cumberland are advised to register for the Chester class because the class at Weirton has a heavy registration, Mrs. Logston said.

Chicago Council Ordinance Bars Discrimination

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago City Council has adopted an ordinance forbidding racial or religious discrimination by real estate brokers in the sale of property despite a massive protest by white property owners.

The bill was passed by the City Council Wednesday, a few hours after 4,000 white property owners marched on City Hall in protest.

The vote was 30-16 as the usual.

ly solid Democratic majority in the council was split. Some aldermen denounced the bill as "watered down," others as a blow to property rights. One of the chief opponents of the measure was the Chicago Real Estate Board. Its president, Percy E. Wagner, vowed the ordinance will be tested in the courts.

Junior Women's Club Event 55 Attend Midland Style Show

A contrast in bridal gowns of 30 years ago and now is displayed by Mrs. Ivan Francis, sitting left, and Mrs. Louis Hallett, while Mrs. Edward Richards, standing left, wears the bridesmaid costume of the past in contrast to that worn by Mrs. William Monac, at right.

Mrs. John Adams, president of the Junior Women's Club of Midland, is in center.

The style show highlighted the club's 30th anniversary program attended by 55 Wednesday night in the Midland Hi-Spot Youth Center in the Borough Building.

The narrator was Mrs. Louis Hallett. Mrs. William Hyams also was a model.

Guests included the seven past presidents, Mrs. William Moll, Mrs. Maurice Newman, Mrs. Charles Schmitt, Mrs. Marshall Ungethuen, Mrs. Frank Migliore Jr., Mrs. Robert Katich and Mrs. Monac.

Other guests were Mrs. William Sprsak, a charter member and the club's first publicity chairman; Mrs. P. A. Ferler, 1933 president of the Beaver County Federation of Women's Clubs, who helped form the local group; Mrs. Bernard R. Lout of Ambridge, state junior extension chairman; Mrs. James Folbert of Rochester, Beaver County chairman of the youth conservation committee.

Mrs. Henry Gardner Jr. of Rochester, Beaver County cultural heritage and fine arts chairman; Mrs. Paul K. Murray, president of the Beaver County Federation, and Miss Ruth Johnson, second vice president of the County Federation.

Mrs. Murray and Miss Johnson presided at the refreshment table. Arrangements of fall flowers were used at the individual tables where the guests were seated.

Guests were greeted by Mrs. John Adams, president and Mrs. Robert Katich, County Council representative. They were served punch by Mrs. James Vesco.

Business was conducted by Mrs. Vesco, who announced that a special meeting will be

Hays Dinner Program Set

The program for the Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner to be held by Columbiana County Democrats Sept. 21 at Beaver Local High School was completed by the party's executive and central committees at a meeting Wednesday night at Lisbon.

Don R. Gosney, county chairman, was to confer today with aides of Vice President Lyndon Johnson and Secret Service men arranging for the visit by the vice president.

Rep. Wayne L. Hays, 18th District congressman, will be honored at the dinner for his 15 years service.

The program includes the call to order by Atty. Paul Tobin of East Liverpool, county vice chairman; the National Anthem to be led by Fay Hillberry of near Lisbon; invocation by the Rev. Henry Scheidtmantle of Columbiana.

Dinner music by Nellie Young, Columbiana organist; address of welcome by Mayor Dean Cranmer of Salem; introduction of Gosney, toastmaster, by Atty. Tobin; introduction of county officials by Auditor Kenneth Bell.

Introduction of candidates by Mrs. Iris Applegate of East Liverpool, county chairwoman; introduction of visitors by Atty. Guy Mauro of Salem, and a brief address by Frank Vannelle, Belmont County chairman.

A special presentation will be made to Rep. Hays by the committee. The congressman will introduce Vice President Johnson. The benediction will be given by Fr. Carl Nicolay of East Liverpool.

Final plans for the event will be made at a meeting Wednesday night.

Clubs To Meet At Ohio View And Industry

Women's groups of Industry and Ohio View will convene next week.

The first meeting of the season for the Industry Borough Women's Club will be held Thursday night at 8 in Logan School.

Fr. Adelbert Williams, pastor of St. Christine Catholic Church in Ohio View, will speak on "Anatomy of a Parish." Mrs. Alan Butler will present flowers and trees of the Bible in a religious program.

A two-minute talk on geographical Pennsylvania will be a new feature for meetings this year. Mrs. Clarence Wendell will present the first.

Two new members will be initiated by Mrs. Fritz Dobronz, membership chairman, and Mrs. Ralph Graham.

Mrs. Jack Peck, president, will preside. Mrs. Thomas Burgett, hostess, will be assisted by Mrs. Paul Udon and Mrs. Harry Craik.

The Executive Board will meet an hour earlier to outline plans for the session to follow.

Officers will be elected when the Women of the Church of the Ohio View Lutheran Church meet Tuesday night at 8:15 in the Church Hall in Industry.

Mrs. Charles Newcomb will present the program, "Stewardship of Life," and Mrs. LaCo Shreve will give devotions.

Mrs. Robert Cowan, president, will preside. Members are to bring their Lutheran Church Women's Guide.

Mrs. Newcomb and Mrs. Shreve will be hostesses.

Fairview PTA's Board Convenes

Members of the Executive Board of the Fairview Parent-Teacher Association met Tuesday night in the school at Ohioville. It was announced that the board will meet on the first Monday and the PTA on the third Thursday of each month for the new term.

Hospitality chairman, Mrs. Paul Dawson, named committees and chairmen for each meeting. Program chairman, Mrs. George Stannard, presented the program for the year which was approved by the board.

The board will host the first meeting Sept. 19 at 8 p. m. in the school.

Mrs. Wayne McClinton, president, announced committee chairmen for the year as follows: ways and means, Mrs. John Dawson; membership, Mrs. Glen Evans; budget, Mrs. Gen Gianvito; publicity, Mrs. Richard Wilton; parliamentary, Mrs. June Porter; legislative, Mrs. Ralph Moriera; magazine, Mrs. Frank Meredith; safety, Mr. and Mrs. Rocco Ucellini, and homeroom mothers, Mrs. George Barckhoff.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Word Games Can Help Child Read

Most children who have just entered first grade look forward to the time when they can go home and show their parents that they can read. Many a parent has also looked forward to this time. But suppose, as it happens in some schools, none of the children in a class are taught by the teacher to read Dr. Garry Meyers for several weeks or months. Suppose your child in the first grade does not, after a few weeks, show you how he can read or how he can "write" his name. Suppose you discover that he and his classmates have not been taught to read and that their teacher is still "getting them ready to read."

HOWEVER MUCH you may be astonished or disappointed, I hope you do not express your feelings to the child. You certainly can't afford to criticize the school's way before him. You want him to feel that all is right at school. This attitude in him, as you can see, is essential to his scholastic success. If he thought otherwise, he might not learn very much there.

Here are some things you may do without harming your child's attitude or his learning progress at school.

1. Read to him every day from books which are not school readers.
2. Call to his attention the names of foods or packages, the labels and signs in stores and street signs.
3. Cut out a number of large placards of good size. Print on each card the names of objects around the house — chair, table, door. Lay or fasten the card on the object. Begin with only three or four. In your own way, try to help him associate each word on the card with the thing it names.

NO MATTER what kind of method the teacher will use to teach your child to read, his learning the meaning of a few words in print will prove useful to him.

4. Also you might help him find and cut out from old newspapers and magazines several pictures of familiar objects and paste them on a large cardboard or on pages of a scrapbook. Under each picture you should print or type the name of each pictured object.

5. Again, you might help him find pictures of familiar objects, beginning with the same letter and sound, such as box, boat, book; can, cat, car. With the name of each picture printed under it, he can paste these together in groups. Having him repeat them in each group, looking at the name of each as he does, will help him grow interested in beginning letters and sounds in words.

6. In like manner have him cut and paste on a page such pictured words as hat, cat, bat, often saying them while looking at them together. Later, he might like to name other words that rhyme but are not pictured, such as boy, joy, toy; tall, fall, call.

7. IT SHOULD also help him to grow gradually familiar with the names of the 26 letters of the alphabet.

My bulletins, "Helping Child at Home in Early Steps in Reading" and "Home Fun With Phonics," may be secured by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Mayor Of Genoa Visits Columbus

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Some years ago the City of Genoa, Italy, presented the City of Columbus with a statue of Christopher Columbus to stand in front of City Hall.

Now the mayor of Genoa, 58-year-old Vittorio Pertusio, is in Columbus for a two-day visit, guest of the city's Italian colony and business and civic leaders.

In return for the statue, Columbus announced recently that it would award a scholarship each Columbus Day in Genoa's name. It will be awarded by the Institute of International Communications, organized in Genoa this year after 10 years of conventions in the Italian city.

"The citizens of Genoa have appreciated very much the relationship with Columbus, and have felt themselves closely tied with the city," Pertusio said. "The scholarship creates a continuing tie that lives from year to year."

The scholarship had been suggested after the Columbus committee scrapped a monument plan as too costly and impracticable.

Pertusio said the "major problem" in his political field "is to strengthen democratic processes against the Communist threat."

From Columbus, Mayor Pertusio and his wife plan to go to San Francisco.

New York, Boston and Chicago are the only other cities on his tour.

South Carolina University Has Negroes Enrolled

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP)—Three Negroes were to attend classes at the University of South Carolina today for the first time in 86 years.

The university was integrated quietly Wednesday with the registration of coed Henri Monteith, 18, of Columbia, Robert G. Anderson, 20, of Greenville, and James Solomon, 23, of Sumter.

Negroes last attended the university in 1877 during the reconstruction period after the Civil war.

About 100 students watched from various parts on the campus as the three Negroes picked up registration papers, visited with deans and paid their fees.

City and state police reinforced campus officers, but they were not needed.

Miss Monteith and Anderson ended their first day on campus with dinner at a student cafeteria. White students sat with them and spoke to them. Several paused at Anderson's table to shake his hand.

The university is the second state-supported white college in South Carolina to be integrated. Clemson College admitted Harvey B. Gantt of Charleston in January.

Cousin Of Astronaut Seeks Council Seat

CLEVELAND (AP) — John W. Glenn is running for the Ward 4 council seat in suburban Richmond Heights, but says he won't capitalize on his famous cousin's name.

His cousin is John Glenn, the Ohio astronaut who was the first American to orbit the earth. Their fathers were brothers.

Glenn, co-owner of a cleaning firm, is running against incumbent councilman Gene Andrews and three other opponents. He ran for the same council seat four years ago but was defeated.

Encourage Your Vacation Appetite

Thin girls, wouldn't it be wonderful to hold on to the extra fill-up of fine feeling you built up while on vacation? Ah, bliss...

For most of us, life cannot be one long vacation, and a pro baby it would pull it if it were. But reflect on what you enjoyed most about the lovely, lazy days of summer and those two weeks with pay. Not having to rise and shine at an early hour was grand and glorious. But after a few days of sleeping late you no longer wanted to, so wasn't it the luxurious feeling of being truly rested and relaxed that made you glad to be alive?

WHY NOT garner from the mellow fall days ahead all that can enhance the feeling of well-being that follows good health habits? This is the time of year when appetite picks up... a plus quality for you thin girls. Take advantage of the tonic in the air to encourage your appetite. There is no better time than right now to set the pattern.

While on vacation you built up an appetite for eating a strengthening breakfast. To be sure, you probably ate breakfast at a later hour, and you may not feel hungry or relish food early in the morning. But thin girls, you have everything to gain and nothing to lose by continuing to eat breakfast!

You're a girl with spirit, so find ways to get on top of the situation. If you are a working girl, plan to be up and around for a little while before you eat breakfast. Could you, for a few weeks eat breakfast after you arrive at your place of business? Or, on these beautiful fall mornings, could you walk a part of the way to work, then stop in for breakfast and take the bus from there on? Why not get out of the rutted-in path and adventure in gaining. Live a little!

HOMEMAKERS, can you plan to enjoy your breakfast after "rush hour" is over and the family have departed? In the morning hours you are rested and better able to take care of food. And this I can promise...once you build up an appetite for the first meal of the day, you will look upon breakfast as your very favorite meal.

And what about lunch...do you take time to enjoy food at noon? For the next thirty days, plan to use your lunch hour for nothing but eating leisurely and relaxing. Make a pact with yourself. Resolve to enjoy your lunch period...do not shop or work for this one lovely hour. Let this be a refreshing break in the day. The noon meal can furnish good nutrition without being heavy. In the mid-afternoon, have a nourishing pick-up, such as a glass of milk. Avoid sweets.

Leftover cooked chicken and rice in the refrigerator? Mix the two, using equal amounts of each, and moisten with tomato sauce. Top with partly cooked bacon strips and heat in the oven.

Finance Chairman Due At GOP Dinner

Courtney Burton, Republican national finance chairman, will be among the top party guests at the $50-a-plate fund-raising dinner of Upper Ohio Valley Republicans Sept. 26 in Steubenville.

H. Nelson Lang, chairman, said that 600 tickets are assured and the dinner committee is hopeful that another 300 will be sold. Burton's maternal grandfather,

Col. Earl W. Oglebay, established Oglebay Park in Wheeling. Area Republicans desiring to make contributions may contact John C. Thompson of East Liverpool or George Perrault Jr. at Salem.

Vice chairman, Lloyd Brenner of Rochester R. D. 1; third member, Wayne Boyd of Hookstown R. D. 1; alternates, Donald Graham of Darlington R. D. 1, and Thomas West, of Fombell R. D. 1. Campbell succeeds Mark Hilliker.

Delegates attending the county convention Tuesday at Beaver were Wayne Boyd of Hookstown R. D. 1, Clyde McElhane of Aliquippa R. D. 1, Paul Rossum of Smiths Ferry R. D. 1, Donald Graham of Darlington R. D. 1, Robert Yeck of Freedom R. D. 1, and Thomas West of Fombell R. D. 1.

Farmers elected to community committees held earlier by mailed ballots were:

Community 1 — Greene, Hanover and Frankfort Townships.

Chairman, Wayne Boyd of Hookstown R. D. 1; vice chairman, Charles A. Shane of Hookstown R. D. 1; third member, Richard Morrow of Georgetown R. D. 1, and alternates, Glenn McDowell of Aliquippa R. D. 1 and Lawrence Searight of Hookstown R. D. 1.

Community 2 — Center, Hope, Independence, Potter and Racoon Townships, chairman, Clyde McElhane of Aliquippa R. D. 2; vice chairman, Harry Craig of Clinton R. D. 1; third member, Guy Moore of Hookstown R. D. 1, and alternates, John Stewart and J. Robert Wilson of Hookstown R. D. 1.

Community 3 — Brighton, Industry and Ohio Townships, chairman, Richard Gailey and vice chairman, Paul Rossum of Smiths Ferry R. D. 1; third member, Wilbur Allison of Beaver R. D. 1, and alternates, Charles Hockenberry of Smiths Ferry R. D. 1, and Raymond Morgan of Beaver R. D. 1.

Community 4 — Big Beaver, South Beaver, Chippewa and Darlington Townships, chairman, Donald Graham and vice chairman, Charles McGaffick both of Darlington R. D. 1; third member, Terry Haffey of Enon Valley R. D. 1, and alternates, Glenn Ferguson of New Galilee R. D. 1, and Stanley Lipinski of Beaver Falls R. D. 1.

Community 5 — Economy, New Sewickley, and Rochester Townships, chairman, Robert Yeck of Freedom R. D. 1; vice chairman, Dale Mace of Rochester R. D. 1; third member, Howard Teets of Rochester R. D. 1, and alternates, Victor Ketterer and Ronald Rape both of Rochester R. D. 1.

Community 6 — Franklin, Daugherty, North Sewickley and Marion Townships, chairman, Thomas West, and vice chairman, Raymond Perkins both of Fombell R. D. 1; third member, Laurence W. Zeigler, also Fombell R. D. 1, and alternates, Roy Herman of Beaver Falls R. D. 2, and Herman Krause of New Brighton R. D. 1.

The Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation county and community farmer - committees are in charge of local administration of such national projects as the agricultural conservation program, feed grain, nation wool program, acreage allotments and marketing quotas, commodity loans and storage facility loans. All newly-elected committees will take office on Oct. 1.

Hilliker, also of Clinton R. D. 1, served three terms.

County Trailer Tax Response Seen 'Slow'

LISBON — Vincent C. Judge, county treasurer, said that trailer taxes for last half of 1963 are coming in very slowly. A closing date of Oct. 1 has been set for this last-half collection.

All who owned a trailer as of Jan. 1 are responsible for the last-half tax, and will be charged a penalty if not paid by that time, even if they have sold their trailers since then, Judge said.

The Kennedys

Mark 10th Wedding Anniversary

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the news from Washington:

KENNEDYS: President Kennedy flies to Newport, R.I., late today to join his wife in observing their 10th wedding anniversary.

The White House gave out no information about the Kennedys' plans for celebrating their anniversary. The President plans to return to Washington Monday.

DRUGS: Senate antitrust investigators plan a preliminary probe into reports that some big U.S. drug firms tried to block the cut-rate sale of American drugs in South America.

Chairman Philip A. Hart of the antitrust subcommittee said closed hearings will be held to determine whether a full-scale investigation is justified.

PAYMENTS: The United States reportedly plans to ask 92 other nations to join in studying ways to modernize the non-Communist world's system of exchanging money and credit to keep pace with the rapid expansion of international trade.

Government sources say they have high hopes that the U.S. proposal will be accepted at the annual meeting of the International Monetary Fund and the World Bank here Sept. 30.

"FLY ANYWHERE": The "fly anywhere" tour bargain for foreign visitors, put into effect Sept. 1 by 12 American local service airlines, hit Europe "like a bombshell," says Voit Gilmore, director of the U.S. Travel Service.

Touting it as "the world's greatest travel bargain," Gilmore said at a reception Wednesday night the special fare "is one of the greatest boosts to U.S. tourism since the government launched its 'Visit U.S.A.' campaign two years ago."

Civilian Officials At Pentagon

Military Experts Assail Influence Of 'Whiz Kids'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Many military professionals smart under what they consider an excessive influence of civilian "whiz-kid" officials at the Pentagon. But these civilians, too, have met frustrations.

"The fact is, this is a one-man show," said one informed official who rates himself neutral in the military-vs.-civilian feud. "It's run by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara—he makes up his own mind and makes the decisions."

Like some military leaders, the civilian operations analysts, theoreticians and experts are known to have chafed because McNamara would not go along with certain of their ideas.

But while rebuffs suffered by the services often come into the open, the thwarting of some of the pet proposals of the "whiz kids" generally is known only to the inner circle of defense leaders.

It is reliably reported, for example, that some of the civilian thinkers some time ago advanced the idea of withdrawing all nuclear battlefield weapons from Western Europe to reduce the hazard of accidental atomic exchange.

According to knowledgeable sources, the Joint Chiefs of Staff warned that such a move could mean the end of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. The proposal got no further.

Many of these men, mostly unknown to the general public, carry Ph.D. degrees and other academic laurels. A number of them are relatively young—hence the term "whiz kids"—is applied to them by critics and admirers alike.

Many officers felt strongly there is a place for the civilian "brain" who analyzes the defense problems scientifically and mathematically—but the believe such analysts should be servants, rather than masters, of the seasoned military professionals.

Their gripe is that the analysts who have achieved stature under McNamara dabble in military strategy and weapons questions which, the military professionals contend, they lack the experience and competence to handle.

Appointments Accepted

Human Relations Group Completed For Midland

Midland Mayor Eli Corak today announced that final confirmation has been received from prospective members, and that the personnel of the Human Relations Commission has been completed.

James L. Mullen, director of Steelworkers District 20, has been selected as chairman, Corak said, because of his past experiences as an organizer and his work in dealing with various community and human problems.

Others named were Fr. Francis E. Paul of Presentation Catholic Church, the Rev. Milorad Dobrotic of the St. George Serbian Orthodox Church, the Rev. J. M. Marbey of the First Baptist Church, Will T. Leavell, representing the Midland Branch of the NAACP.

Dr. R. M. Higginbotham, Paul McGovern of the First National Bank, Olen C. Gibson of the Midland branch of the Beaver Trust Co., Charles R. Schmitt, representing the Crucible Steel Co.; Wilbert Basinger, representing the realtors.

Church; Mrs. Eileen Paisley, publisher of the Midland News.

The Rev. George H. Bohlender of the First Presbyterian Church, Glen B. Roberts, representing the Chamber of Commerce, and Mrs. Fredricka Folks.

Corak said each member was chosen because of background and past work in various civic projects.

"First proposed in July, the commission will deal with special problems, either now existing or which might arise in the future—which borough government normally doesn't deal with in an official capacity," the mayor said.

The mayor said the commission will not hold regular scheduled meetings, but will be called into session whenever needed.

A meeting will be called in the near future, he said, for the purpose of organization.

Group Meets In Irondale

Twenty-one attended a meeting of the Book Club Tuesday night with Mrs. Liberia Banfield with Mrs. Vonnice Swartzlander as co-hostess.

Business was conducted by Mrs. Elaine Porter, president. Games were directed by Mrs. Marlene McCullough, Mrs. Swartzlander and Mrs. Alice Pilutti.

Next meeting is Oct. 7 with Mrs. Ruth Hoobler.

Reports were heard at a meeting of the Margaret Poole Circle Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. Alta Nicholson. Mrs. Jame Tolson, president, presided.

Mrs. Margaret Rowley, secretary, and Mrs. June Clark, treasurer, reported. Programs for the year were announced.

The program was presented by Mrs. Jean Gill. Mrs. Nicholson read Scriptures from John 15: 18-27. Mrs. Vivian Woodward read from Ps. 115. A poem was read by Mrs. Clark.

Mrs. Nicholson was assisted by Mrs. Bernice Crawford, co-hostess.

Next meeting is Oct. 8 with Mrs. Jessie Rowley.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Skinner and family of Salineville have concluded a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Russell.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Baker and son, Charles, of Wellsview have concluded a visit with Mr. and Mrs. James Crawford, who also had as guests, Mr. and Mrs. David Grimm, of Stratton.

Karen Tolson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Tolson, has enrolled in Findlay (Ohio) College.

Miss Tolson, a 1963 graduate of Stanton Local High School, received a secretarial scholarship from the Marathon Oil Co.

Fallout Shelter Heads Plan Class

Plans for a series of classes on radiation detection and emergency planning were outlined at the first meeting of the Civil Defense fallout shelter managers Wednesday night in Council Chambers at City Hall.

The first class will be held Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. in Council chambers on radioactive fallout and healthful living in emergencies.

Asst. Fire Chief Alfred Van Dyne, who will be the instructor, briefed the 16 attending the meeting of the lessons to be given and distributed booklets covering the subjects.

Alex Rutcki of Lisbon, county CD director, and Herbert Combs, city director, spoke briefly on the importance of the instructions and the responsibilities of the managers.

Rutcki urged each manager to bring one or two assistants, pointing out it will be a 24-hour job in event of a disaster and will require the services of more than one man.

Checks Received For County Fair

LISBON — Payment of several bills and receipt of checks from a number of concessions and from advertising for the 118th Columbiana Fair were approved by the Fair Board of the County Agricultural Society at a meeting Wednesday night.

Members said it is hoped the annual financial report on the fair will be available at the meeting Oct. 23.

It was pointed out the terms of three members will expire in November, and Sept. 25 is the deadline for filing as a candidate for the posts to be filled in an election Oct. 2.

Those whose terms are ending are Ben Weingart of Fairfield Township, president, and William Maple of Hanover Township and Atty. Donald Elliott of Rogers.

Any members of the society who are residents of the county are entitled to vote.

Hammondsville Area Group Sets Meeting

The Missionary Society of the Grant's Hill United Presbyterian Church will meet Friday night at the home of Mrs. Ethel Rose of Chestnut Grove Ridge, Hammondsville. A wiener roast will be featured.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hardy entertained with a family dinner Saturday night at their home at Guilford, honoring her sister, Mrs. Gussie Parsons, of Hammondsville for her birthday anniversary. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. George Martin.

One Nabbed In Money Order Theft Ring

CINCINNATI (AP)—An arrest has been made in what Ed D. Mason, agent in charge of the FBI here, said is a "widespread" money order theft ring.

Taken into custody Wednesday was James Robert Jones, 26, of Hamilton.

He waived a preliminary hearing and U. S. Commissioner Charles C. Ebel ordered him held under $2,000 bond. At his arraignment, Jones said, "I'm guilty—I let's get it over with."

100 Students Arrested In Saigon Riot

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP)—Bayonet-wielding troops arrested more than 100 teen-age students in a rock-throwing riot at a technical school today.

The riot followed midnight arrests of other students, and a morning of tension between troops and teen-agers at high schools and university faculty branches throughout Saigon.

Student unrest, temporarily squashed last week after more than 2,000 students were arrested, was rising again.

Truck loads of riot police and troops in full battle gear roared from one potential trouble spot to another.

At least three soldiers were reported seriously injured, several students were bruised and a deputy provincial chief suffered a bloody nose in an hour-long clash between students and troops at the Secondary School of Decorative Arts.

The first demonstration flared up at the government school of fine arts, where troops arrested seven students after more than 100 had gathered in a noisy demonstration denouncing the government of President Ngo Dinh Diem.

Most medical students at the University of Saigon boycotted term examinations.

More than 2,000 were to take exams and newsmen counted barely 400 who turned up. More than 1,000 students of the university are still believed in jail out of the 2,000 arrested Aug. 25.

Cleveland Labor Unit Asks Ouster Of State Official

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland AFL-CIO Federation of Labor passed a resolution Wednesday night demanding that Gov. James A. Rhodes remove William O. Walker from his post as Ohio industrial relations director.

Walker, a former Cleveland councilman who is owner and publisher of the Call & Post, a Negro newspaper, was accused of denying recognition to two unions and their members. Typographical Union Local 53 has struck the paper to win recognition.

The resolution was requested by Newell Frizell, Local 53 president, and was passed almost unanimously by the federation's 400 delegates at their monthly meeting.

The resolution noted that the Call & Post had charged some unions were reluctant to accept Negroes as members, but added that Local 53 and Cleveland Newspaper Local 1 had "presented documented evidence that the great majority of Call & Post employees in mechanical, production and editorial departments desire representation by these unions."

4-H News

Rebecca McGary of Kensington R.D. 1 and Barbara Shultz of East Rochester R.D. 1, received recognition at the Ohio State Fair for their team demonstration on clothing and the Fair Board is sponsoring their participation to the Ohio 4-H Club Congress Saturday through Sept. 18 at Ohio State University.

The two girls were winners in the county demonstration contest held earlier in August and both are members of the New Grand Junior Farmerettes with Mrs. Leroy Baker of East Rochester R.D. 1 leader.

Miss McGary is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ritchie and Miss Shultz is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Shultz.

A variety of items are on the agenda for the Columbiana County 4-H Steer Committee meeting tonight at 8 in the County Extension office, according to Don Myers, county extension agent in agriculture.

Rules and procedures will be set up for 1964 county Steer Club, annual meeting plans and review of recent show and sale.

John Ward of Columbiana R.D. 1 is chairman and will preside.

Thirty-two members of the Gavertown Valley Girls 4-H Club met Tuesday evening at the home of their advisor, Mrs. John Ewing, of the Salineville Rd., Lisbon, for the annual election of officers.

Miss Louise Day was elected president; Miss Dorene Ferguson, vice president; Miss Elaine Tenzek, secretary; Miss Susan Jeffers, treasurer; Miss Suzanne Lee, recreational leader; Miss Susan Pennell, devotion leader, and Miss Linda Pritchard, health and safety leader.

Ribbons were awarded to the girls for completing projects.

A Halloween party is planned Oct. 19 at the Ewing home.

Miss Laverne Naylor is the publicity chairman.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: The letter signed "Unsolved Mystery" could have been written by me many years ago.

My husband and I both came from cruel and punishing families. Like "Unsolved," we, too, were unable to understand why relatives would want to dominate the lives of those around them. Both my husband and I were on the brink of cracking up.

A doctor told us the only solution was to move as far from our relatives as possible. So we did.

We bought a big, old house and I got a license for foster child care. We asked for the difficult and challenging children—the rejected ones who needed our love most.

It was the ideal solution. Now there is no time to concern ourselves with what his crazy family—or mine—will do next. All our discussions are about the children. Our lives are free of anxiety and nightmarish family fights.

You gave the right answer to "Unsolved," Ann, but I'd like to make it even stronger. Don't allow yourself to be pulled into someone else's hell. And don't try to educate a nut, because all you have when you are through is an educated nut.

If people make you miserable, get away from them and fill your life with useful, constructive things.—UNCHAINED AT LAST.

Dear At Last: Amen.

Moral Question

Dear Ann: Can you tell me, please, why mothers allow their pregnant young daughters to announce their engagement and then permit friends to fete them at showers and parties?

I'm a woman who gave a shower for a pregnant bride—not knowing it, of course. When the baby was born six months after the wedding I felt like a great big fool. I'm furious with this girl's mother. Surely she must have known.

Have moral standards sunk to such a level that this is now considered acceptable? Please publish my letter and help mothers to start thinking in the right direction. If something is wrong with my thinking, I'd like to know it.—MITCHELL, S.D.

Dear Mitchell: Mothers of pregnant brides, I assure you, are less than elated at the prospect of a "too early" arrival. But they do their best to hold up their heads, hoping that the stork will break a leg and show up late. A girl who is visibly pregnant should not have a large church wedding. And to inspire parties for a pregnant bride-to-be is in the worst possible taste.

A Captain Writes

Dear Ann: I'd like to say a word or two to Vincent's mother, Mrs. B. B. who rushed to the summer camp and hauled her son out after three days when he phoned and whimpered, "Come and get me, Ma."

I spent 24 years in the armed forces and retired last year as a captain. According to my figures, little Vincent is now 13 years old. In about seven years he will be called into the armed services and if he hasn't learned something about taking orders by then he's going to have a mighty rough time of it.

Once he's in the service he won't be able to telephone home and say, "Come and get me, Ma."

Mothers who believe they are raising "free thinkers" when they shield their children against "order taking" are not helping their children to be strong and independent. They are making cripples out of the kids. As you said, Ann, "Nobody can live in this world and do as he darned well pleases."

I hope you will print this letter for the kid's sake. Thanks.—C.A.-U.S.A.R.

Dear Friend: Here's the letter "for the kid's sake." Thanks for writing.

Confidentially

To Baffled: Overlook it and all will be well.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Radio Class Offered For Potential 'Hams'

The Triangle Amateur Radio Club will hold registration Monday night at 7 at East Liverpool High School for any Tri-State area men or students interested in obtaining a novice or general class radio license.

If a sufficient number register, free courses will be taught in Morse code and radio theory for beginners and another course for the advanced general license.

The only expense expected for the weekly classes is for instruction books. Qualifying for either of the licenses under the Federal Communications Commission permits operation on designated amateur short wave frequencies.

COACH CHARLIE POLCE and Midland's backfield ace Mike Krivoshia talk over some strategy on the Leopard practice field prior to Midland's meeting with East Liverpool Friday night at Paterson Field. Krivoshia is the Leopards big gun from halfback and in the opening game last week scored four touchdowns.

Yanks Move Step Closer

Twins Blast Indians, 9-3, In Race For Second Place

By JIM BECKER Associated Press Sports Writer

The New York Yankees are openly favoring the Los Angeles Dodgers for the National League flag in the battle with the St. Louis Cardinals.

They figure a World Series with the Dodgers will be worth some $6,000 a man more than one with the Cardinals. The arithmetic is simple. There are some 55,000 seats in O'Malley's house in Los Angeles, and all within naked eye distance of home plate are called boxes, at $12 a copy. St. Louis has only 30,000 seats, few in the $12 class.

The Yankees moved a step closer to their own annual American League pennant-clinching party by whipping the Kansas City Athletics 8-2 Wednesday night. Mickey Mantle smacked a three-run homer in the first inning and added a single and double. Whitey Ford won his 22nd game. Joe Pepitone also hit a two-run homer.

The second-place Minnesota Twins also won, 9-3, over Cleveland.

That left the magic number at three. In other AL action, the Chicago White Sox edged Baltimore 3-2. Washington trimmed Detroit 6-5 in 10 innings and Aubrey Gatewood pitched a four-hitter in his major league debut as the Los Angeles Angels defeated Boston 4-1.

Harmon Killebrew hit his 38th homer—a grand slammer—and Earl Battey hit his 25th homer as Minnesota stayed one-half game ahead of the White Sox in their battle for second place.

Eddie Fisher went the distance for the White Sox against Baltimore, winning his eighth with a three-hitter. Dave Nicholson homered for the Sox. Camilo Carreon also homered.

Dick Phillips led off the 10th inning with his 10th homer for the Washington victory. Dick McAuliffe homered for the Tigers.

Gatewood, 25, a right-hander just up from Memphis, lost his shutout bid in the ninth when Dick Stuart tripled and scored on Russ Nixon's sacrifice fly.

International Series Move To Atlanta Park ATLANTA (AP)—The International League Governors' Cup series moves here tonight with the Indianapolis Indians holding a 2-1 lead over the Atlanta Crackers in the best-of-seven playoff.

Atlanta edged the Indians 5-4 at Indianapolis Wednesday night after holding a 5-1 lead in the ninth inning. Phil Gagliano saved the game for the Crackers with a brilliant play.

Indianapolis sends Frank Freutzer against Atlanta's Johnny Kucks tonight.

Nineteen lettermen are on Penn State's football squad.

By MIKE RATHET Associated Press Sports Writer The St. Louis Cardinals' Ray Sadecki and Ron Taylor combined for a five-hit, 4-0 job against the Chicago Cubs Wednesday night that kept second-place St. Louis three games behind the Los Angeles Dodgers with their third straight shutout.

The win extended the Cardinals' streak to five games while producing the 14th victory in the last 15 games.

While the Cardinals kept up the pressure, Maury Wills applied some for the Dodgers against

W. Va. Coach Optimistic On Tackles

JACKSON'S MILL, W. Va. (AP)—The West Virginia University football team left its pre-season training camp here today and headed for school registration in Morgantown.

optimistic about the tackle positions usually considered the teams weak spot.

Corum noted improvement by tackles Ken Woodchick, Gene Ciccarelli, Stan Lysick and Jim Fagan as well as guards Roger Alford and Steve Kush. All are sophomores.

Practice is scheduled to resume tomorrow with one-a-day sessions. Corum said there is a possibility of a scrimmage for the squad on Saturday.

Another bright note in the WVU football picture was the release yesterday from a Morgantown hospital of sophomore guard Walt Paraschak from Luzerne, Pa. He suffered a concussion in practice last week which resulted in a temporary loss of memory. Paraschak is not expected to return to the squad until he is cleared by doctors.

Pittsburgh, stroking four hits, starting three rallies and driving in two runs as Los Angeles maintained its grip on the top spot by belting the Pirates 9-4.

In other NL action, Vada Pinson collected two homers, including his 1,000th major league hit, and Gordy Coleman hit a grand slam in Cincinnati's 14-3 thumping of Milwaukee, Houston's Dick Farrell four-hit Philadelphia 4-2 and the New York Mets defeated San Francisco 4-2.

Sadecki, 9-8, started against Cub ace Dick Ellsworth, 20-9, allowing only four hits in 5 2/3 innings, but was bothered by periodic wildness and Manager Johnny Keane decided to bring in Taylor. Taylor allowed only a single the rest of the way.

Wills led off the first and third innings for the Dodgers with singles and each time stole second and scored. Wills also drove in two of three Los Angeles runs in the fourth.

Don Drysdale started for the Dodgers but gave way to Pete Richert, who in turn needed Ron Perranoski's relief help. Richert, tagged for a homer by Smokey Burgess, got the victory for a 4-1 record. Bob Veale, 2-2, took the loss.

Jim Maloney won his 22nd game as the Reds pounded the Braves. The Colts won when rookie Jim Wynn hit a two-run homer that snapped a 2-2 tie against the Phillies.

The Mets got the job done against the Giants as Al Jackson pitched a seven-hitter and Tim Lincecum cracked three singles.

Women Golfers Honored At Club

Miss Barbara Beatty (second from left) won the 1963 Ladies Club Championship at the East Liverpool Country Club and she is shown receiving the championship cup from Mrs. William Pickin, the 1962 winner, during a presentation Wednesday at the Club before the final ladies golfing event of the season was held.

Mrs. Gordon Weese, (center) was the runnerup in the first division. Miss Beatty and Mrs. Weese both scored 89's but Miss Beatty defeated her opponent 1 up.

Mrs. Robert Bowersock (second from right) was the runnerup in the third division and Mrs. William McCutcheon (extreme right) was runnerup in the second division.

Mrs. Herbert Smith, second division winner and Mrs. Robert McDaniel, who captured the third division, could not be present Wednesday.

The rotating cup which has the name of each winner engraved on it has been presented each year since 1926. The cup was donated by Mrs. Edwin M. Knowles.

Medalist honors in the qualifying rounds of the club championship went to Mrs. Robert Patterson in the first division and Mrs. Fred Banfield in the second division. A three-way tie for honors in the third division included Mrs. McDaniel, Mrs. William Hocking and Mrs. Bowersock.

Consolation winners included Mrs. J. N. Porter, first division; Mrs. Emil Rohrer, second division and Mrs. Robert Bernstorff, third division.

Mrs. Patterson won the ladies final golf event Wednesday afternoon leading the first division with a 47-42-89. Low net was fired by Mrs. R. V. Beatty with 102-35-67. Second low net went to Mrs. Gordon Weese, 90-21-

60 and third low net to Mrs. J. R. McLaren, 105-23-73.

Mrs. Weese won the putting with 29.

The second division found Mrs. W. A. Porter winning low gross with 59. Mrs. Bowersock recorded low net of 63-25-38 and Mrs. William F. Porter won the putting with 16.

Sherman High On Giants As NFL Teams Get Ready

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Coach Allie Sherman stoutly maintains that his New York Giants are sound, in fact he might have the best team in the last three years.

But the coach of the defending Eastern Division champions in the National Football League made a move that indicates he's far from overconfident in talent going into the weekend opener against Baltimore.

Sherman, whose Giants won just two of five exhibition games, dropped Jim Pace, a halfback, from the roster Wednesday. That put the Giants one man under the 37-player roster limit.

"It will give us a little room to pick up a player elsewhere if we desire," Sherman explained.

Baltimore, which lost only once in five exhibitions—and that with Johnny Unitas out of action—is a slight favorite. Unitas sat out the final exhibition with a sore shoulder but is reported ready for full time action against the Giants.

The Green Bay Packers, defending league champions, are reported at full strength for their opener against the Chicago Bears. They bolstered their defensive secondary Wednesday with the acquisition of halfback Jerry Norton from Dallas. The Bears also are expected to be at full strength.

There is some doubt about San Francisco's troubled 40ers, however. John Brodie, their No. 1 quarterback, has an injured throwing arm and his status is undetermined for the opener against ambitious Minnesota.

The season opens with two Saturday night games, St. Louis at Dallas and Detroit at Los Angeles.

Sunday, New York is at Baltimore, Washington at Cleveland, Minnesota at San Francisco and Pittsburgh at Philadelphia.

The American Football League, in its second week of regular season play, has Boston at San Diego and Denver at Houston in Saturday night games and Buffalo at Oakland Sunday.

UNIVERSITY OF TEXAS kicking specialist Tony Crosby hasn't lost a shoe—he boots 'em barefooted for the nationally-ranked Longhorns. The senior star kicked 22 points last year to rank as a top steer scorer and his field goal provided the winning margin against Oklahoma in 1962. (UPI Telephoto)

Defending Champ Out Of Amateur Golf Race

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)—Sixteen golfers went into the first of two 18-hole rounds in the U.S. Amateur Golf championship today, but absent from the group was defending champion Labron Harris Jr.

Harris was eliminated Wednesday by Walter Stahl of Cleveland, 2 and 1.

Billy Joe Patton, another veteran of amateur international golf, was knocked out of contention by Bob Greenwood of North Texas State.

In today's fifth round over the 6,886-yard par 72 Wakonda Club Course, Bill Campbell, 40, of Huntington, W. Va., meets John Owens, 36, of Lexington, Ky. It is Campbell's 20 time in the National Amateur.

John Lotz, 22, of San Jose State meets George Archer, 23, the Gilroy, Calif., cowpoke; Dr. Philip Olson of Minneapolis plays Steve Spray, 22, of Indianapolis, Iowa; 1960 king Deane Beman goes against Barry Meerdink, 23, of Muscatine, Iowa; Stahl against Southern California U.S. Davis Stockton; Ed Tutwiler of Charleston, W. Va., against NCAA champ Dick Sikes of Arkansas; two-time winner Charlie Coe against Texas U.S. Jimmy Thompson; and Ross Mitchell of Lubbock, Tex., against Dick Guardiola of Cleveland.

In Mid-American Race

Bowling Green, Miami, OU Will Battle It Out Again

By HAL PARIS
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Bowling Green, Miami and Ohio University, three schools that have dominated the Mid-American Conference in recent years, appear headed for another showdown to determine the league's football king.

But the seven-team conference, with all of its members in the "major" classification, may have more balance this season than at any time in its 17-year history.

"I believe the conference has finally matured," said Dave Reese, MAC commissioner, in a pre-season sizzle.

"I feel Marshall, Kent State, Toledo, and Western Michigan will all have improved teams over 1962. And I'll be greatly surprised if they don't give a good account of themselves," Reese added.

The coaches, themselves, however, are going along with Bowling Green, Miami and Ohio U. as the teams to beat.

In a poll conducted by The Associated Press, the coaches selected Bowling Green and Miami for MAC honors with Ohio U. a close third.

Doyt Perry's Bowling Green team will be shooting for a third straight championship but the Falcon coach isn't too optimistic.

"Of our 15 lettermen only two were starters last season. We'll be lucky to make a fight for third place," said Perry, who in eight seasons has chalked up an enviable record of 60 wins, 7 losses and 5 ties.

Perry must go with more youth than ever before since graduation claimed 16 of his top 22 performers.

But the team has a good nucleus and a flashy halfback in Jay Cunningham, a junior who gained more than 300 yards as a soph.

There's good over-all speed and a newcomer whom Perry's high on. He's Tony Lawrence, a 332-pound offensive tackle whose father Brooks played baseball for the Cincinnati Reds.

Miami, long a giant-killer in football circles, has a new coach in Glenn (Bo) Schembechler, a former Ohio State tutor.

Schembechler has 25 returning lettermen, including a classy backfield contingent that rates as the best in the league.

Quarterback Ernie Kellermann, an adept passer and runner, is the key to the attack. As a soph, Kellermann set a single season school record for total offense with 1,227 yards. The backfield unit also includes Scott Tyler, a nifty halfback and Tom Longworth, the No. 2 ground-gainer last year who goes at fullback.

The Redskins may have some up-front weaknesses since only one starter returns from the offensive line. Also, Bob Jencks, the team's fine placekicker and leading scorer a year ago, has graduated.

Ohio U. has a young team with only five seniors, four of whom start. The Bobcats will be smaller than in recent years, but faster and more maneuverable. Coach Bill Hess says his team lacks depth and an experienced quarterback. And the 'Cats usually tough defense may be more vulnerable with the loss of some top linemen.

Ohio's top lineman is Skip Hoover, an agile 6-3, 225-pound junior voted the outstanding lineman in the 1963 Sun Bowl.

Toledo may be improved on defense but lacks depth and a scoring punch to make a serious challenge. The best of the linemen appears to be Wynn Lembright and Ron Dandurand.

Western Michigan faces a major rebuilding job in the line and has no experienced quarterback to lead the attack. Backs George Archer and Alan Gibbs will have to carry the load.

Marshall, with 21 lettermen back, looks for an improved year. Standouts are end Jim Cure and halfback Jim Brown.

Kent State, last a year ago, needs a quarterback to make any progress. The Golden Flashes have 17 returning lettermen, including five starters, and a fine halfback in Rick Bowling. Missing is Jim Flynn, third top signal-caller in the loop last year.

Overtrick Favored In Yonkers Race

YONKERS, N.Y. (AP)—Overtrick, Mrs. Leonard J. Buck's fast stepping colt, starts from the unfavorable No. 12 post position in tonight's $163,187 Cane Futurity at Yonkers Raceway. But nevertheless he's the 8-5 choice to take the measure of 10 other 3-year-old colts and one filly in the first jewel of the Triple Crown for pacing.

The lone filly in the field is Richard Downing's Timely Beauty, who set a world record for juvenile fillies when she went a mile in 1:57 1-5 against the fence at Lexington, Ky., last fall.

Meadow Skipper, purchased by Norman Woolworth of Winthrop, Maine, for $100,000 in June, is the second choice at 5-2 with the Bill Houghton-trained entry of Chapel Chief and Steady Beau also well regarded.

Rounding out the field are the Stanley Dancer entry of Sly Yankee and William Tim, Ambro Dale, Fly Fly Byrd, James B. Hanover, Meadow Russ and Rex Pick.

Beaver County Tennis Tournament Planned

The Beaver County Recreation Department's first annual tennis tournament for residents of the county is scheduled for the weekend of Sept. 21-22 and Sept. 28-29 at the Bradys Run Park Courts.

Featured class will be men's singles championship, competing for the Gordon Camp Memorial Trophy, and the women's singles class, competing for the Art Coombs Memorial Trophy.

There will be men's and women's beginner classifications. Other events are men's doubles, boys' 16 and under, boys 12 and under, girls 16 and under, and girls 12 and under. Trophies will be given to all winners and runners-up.

Interested persons may register at the park courts this Saturday and Sunday from 1-8 p.m. or by calling the Department of Public Works in New Brighton, 843-2703.

Warren, Niles Boys Figure In Tackle Jobs

CINCINNATI (AP)—Three boys from Warren and Niles figured in a re-shuffling Wednesday of tackle assignments on the University of Cincinnati football squad.

Bob Sheehan of Niles, who was the No. 1 "short" tackle last season, moved back into that spot replacing sophomore Dennis Smith of Warren, who is hampered by recurrence of an ankle sprain. That shift also moved Ted Rodovich, from Warren, to the second unit.

Spokane Wins, Evens Pacific Loop Series

SPOKANE (AP)—Third baseman John Werhas lofted a pair of long fly balls to center field Wednesday night to give the Spokane Indians a 3-2 edge over the Oklahoma City 8ers.

The decision evened up the best-of-seven series for the Pacific Coast League baseball championship at one game each.

Werhas brought home the winning run in the bottom of the ninth with a blast that arched 370 feet and fell to the ground while the helpless 8ers looked on. They saved themselves the trouble of trying to catch it because with the bases loaded and only one out the run would have scored anyhow.

Yanks Actually Won '63 Pennant One Day In June

NEW YORK (AP)—The record books will say the New York Yankees won the 1963 American League pennant in mid-September, but manager Ralph Houk and his players know better.

The championship was won one June afternoon shortly after the crippling injury to Mickey Mantle that sidelined the Yankee club leader for most of the remainder of the season.

The club was then in third place.

The next day Houk called a meeting. A member of the Yankee family revealed what took place at this closed door session.

"This scared talk has got to stop," Houk was quoted as saying. "I am as concerned about Mantle's injury as much as any of you but I say we're strong enough to win without him."

"No one appreciates more than I do what Mickey means to us but this is not a one-man team. Every one of you is a vital part of this club. Mick's absence merely gives you a chance to prove it."

"I don't say it will be easy—no club can lose a Mantle and not feel it—but we're a heck of a lot better than any of the other clubs even without him."

The Yankee manager went down the line, addressing each player individually, pitting each against his counterpart on the Yankees' chief rivals.

"You're all the best at your positions," Houk flatly concluded.

For several seconds there was no answer. Then the quiet was broken by left-hander Whitey Ford.

"Let's go, guys," he shouted. "What are we waiting for? We've got work to do."

That was the answer Houk wanted. The Yankees, with Ford pitching, whipped Detroit that night and went on to win 10 of their next 11.

'Samaritan' Law Slated

Ohio's "Good Samaritan" law, aimed at encouraging doctors, nurses and others trained in first aid techniques to assist victims at the scene of emergencies, will become effective Monday, H. Jud English, assistant manager of the Columbiana County Motor Club, reminded today.

The new law will relieve persons of civil liability while giving such aid, unless their actions "constitute willful and wanton misconduct."

It does not apply to treatment or care given in a hospital, doctor's office or other place having proper medical equipment, or when the aid is given for a fee or with the expectation of a fee.

During legislative hearings on the measure, witnesses indicated that the greatest single need for the new law is at traffic accidents. Persons able to help victims often do not because they fear possible court action for alleged negligent acts, even though their services are rendered voluntarily.

Another new law, effective Sept. 20, will ban all types of commercial activity in rest areas and roadside parks on the state highway system, and anywhere within the right-of-way fence of an interstate highway.

The new regulation was necessary to assure Ohio's continued participation in the Federal Highway Aid Program which prohibits commercial activity along interstate highways.

Exemptions are permitted for emergency motor vehicle repairs and medical treatment.

The law also grants authority to the Ohio State Highway Patrol to enforce the new law and to make arrests for all misdemeanors committed in the rest areas or roadside parks.

Violation of the ban against commercial activity calls for a fine of up to $100 for a first offense, and up to $500 for each subsequent offense.

Ex-Policeman Faces Trial For Burglaries

CLEVELAND (AP) — Robert Wankowski, a former policeman, goes on trial today for burglaries he allegedly committed while with the Cleveland police department.

Another ex-policeman, Raymond Olle, will be tried by Common Pleas Court Judge Roy F. McMahon following Wankowski's trial. Both are accused of participating in burglaries with former Patrolman William Marlowe, who now is serving a 3-to-50-year sentence in Ohio Penitentiary. Marlowe pleaded guilty to 13 counts of burglary last December.

Reserve Unit Waits 'Armor Day'

PRACTICE MAKES PERFECT. Members of Co. A, 7th Medium Tank Battalion, Army Reserve unit headquartered in East Liverpool, run through a practice drill on an M48 tank turret trainer, at the Poplar Ln. Armory. Gunner's training is part of the varied program for the reservists.

Army Reservists from the East Liverpool district will take part in the first annual "Armor Day" open house at the Ravenna Arsenal Sunday, to be held by the 7th Tank Battalion, 68th Armor, of Ohio's 83rd Infantry Division. Local personnel are members of Co. A, headquartered at the Poplar Ln. Armory. First Lt. James E. Fox is company commander.

THE 7TH Tank Battalion, 68th Armor, is composed of four company-sized units, with Co. A in East Liverpool.

Co. B is located at Lordstown Military Reservation and is commanded by Capt. Thomas H. Tishner of Warren. Headquarters & Headquarters Co. is located in Salem, with 1st Lt. Donald McCloud of Youngstown as company commander. Co. C of East Palestine is commanded by 1st Lt. Charles A. Linabarger of Youngstown.

At 1 p. m., when the gates open, there will be displays of communications equipment, two types of tanks used by the battalion, complete field kitchens, and a medical section, in addition to individual equipment.

The tanks on display are the M41, 76-mm. gun tank, and the M48, and 90-mm. gun tank.

AT 2 P. M., a communications display will be given consisting of a radio controller giving commands to several tanks. Both sides of the radio conversation will be heard on the public address system.

Following the communications display, an "aggressor force" will pass the viewing area and move towards a platoon of five tanks concealed in a tree line approximately a mile away.

This force will be attacked by the radioed orders of the platoon leader again heard. Blank ammunition, .30-caliber, and 90-mm., will be used to add realism.

An area is set aside to give rides on the tanks at the conclusion of the attack demonstration with headquarters at the City Hall. The unit moved into the new armory in 1955.

GET THE MESSAGE? Capt. John Muller, left, and 1st Lt. Leroy J. Murphy points out there is defense strength in the Army Reserve, of which Co. A of East Liverpool is a part. Seated is 1st Lt. James E. Fox, company commander. Muller headed the company until his transfer to Salem.

DURING THE period through 1963 over 1,000 local reservists served within the company, which has had four commanders. Others were Capt. John Muller, Capt. James Walker and Capt. John Markanton. A number of men have over five years service.

Co. A has consistently been one of the top units within the 83rd at home and during summer field training, a spokesman said.

Lincoln Plus 3 Inches

Alan Gill

HOLLYWOOD Dan O'Herlihy, Abbey Theater alumnus, Oscar nominee for his portrayal of "Robinson Crusoe" and an actor of formidable mien didn't go to the presentation, because that would have meant riding a horse into the arena.

As Dr. Sardius McPheeters, the Irish actor said, he will use a suggestion of a Scottish burr.

"I'M USING the Scotch vowel sound but do nothing with the consonants, or I'd be too hard to understand. The language of the scripts is a bit high-blown. I say lines like, 'That, sir, is a most ill-considered action!'"

"More often than not in the series, I play a minor role, which is fine. The character is a little too exotic for overexposure."

"The pilot show is the best of them. If we can maintain that standard, we'll have a good series. In that episode, I fall for a — I'll explain to you later, boy — for a doxie, get all the way to the altar with her, and am then saved."

"The shows have been mainly good where the emphasis has been on the people rather than the adventure."

"AND THE BEST scenes have been those between us, Kurt and me. I hope we're fairly successful, though, and no more. I don't want to live with the thing for years."

"The costume?" he said, removing the stopepige hat. "I designed it myself, basing it on Phiz's illustrations of The Artful Dodger in 'Oliver Twist,' though my character is closer to that of Mr. Micawber."

"I went to a costume house and got the coat off a rack. I didn't want it to fit too well."

"The first impression of Doc McPheeters, I think, should be that of a dandy, but a closer look will show that I ain't. The cane and the wig — well, they're Chaplin. And for the hat, I told the man, 'Give me Lincoln, plus 3 inches.'"

Kurt Conway is an irresistible kid. The two of them — the tall actor in his broadcated waistcoat, tousled black wig and stopepige hat and the small yellow-haired boy in his Tom Sawyer-like rig — stood before a circle of Conestoga wagons and amid the ersatz trees of the "McPheeters" set and talked at length.

"I got off at 5 o'clock every afternoon so I can play Little League ball," Kurt said, slapping his hands together in a loose, continued action. "It's in my contract."

IN ANSWER to questions, he revealed that he is a shortstop; is batting .38 has an all-star last year; was a father who played in the Yankee farm system; used to compete in quarter-midget race car events; is afraid that some night baseball games will be telecast at the same time as "McPheeters," which will sorely try Kurt's loyalty; and looks forward to those days of shooting on location at the Malibu Ranch.

"I got it ride and fish then," he said.

He looked up at his television "father."

"Mr. O'Herlihy hates baseball," he said, "and he hates horses."

"Baseball," O'Herlihy said, "is a game for women. And I'd like you to know, Kurt, that I've maneuvered my boy Gavan off baseball onto tennis."

"AS FOR HORSES, I ride now, though most unwillingly. At one time — on a 'Rawhide' episode in 1960 — they told me I was playing a symbol of the Old West and would ride, at the conclusion, into the sunset."

"Are you mad?" I asked. And so they used a double on that final shot. For closeups, I sat atop a ladder placed on an uneven rocky spot, and I teetered up there for my 'ride.'

"That season, the Oklahoma City Western Heritage Foundation presented two Cowboy of the Year awards: in the movies, to John Wayne for 'The Alamo,' and in television, to you-know-who. I didn't go to the presentation, because that would have meant riding a horse into the arena."

IN ANSWER to questions, he revealed that he is a shortstop; is batting .38 has an all-star last year; was a father who played in the Yankee farm system; used to compete in quarter-midget race car events; is afraid that some night baseball games will be telecast at the same time as "McPheeters," which will sorely try Kurt's loyalty; and looks forward to those days of shooting on location at the Malibu Ranch.

Nurse Exercises Honor Area Girl

Miss Joan May Allison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Allison of R. D. 1, Hookstown, has been graduated in ceremonies at the Louise Suydam McClintic School of Nursing at St. Margaret Memorial Hospital, Pittsburgh.

Miss Allison received the Arthur M. Scully award for outstanding performance as a bed side nurse. She was treasurer of her class in her junior year and served as a delegate to the Student Nurses' Association of Pennsylvania last year.

A 1960 graduate of South Side High School, she will remain on the staff at St. Margaret Hospital.

Kenmar Reports Rise In Business

EAST PALESTINE — An increase in business volume compared to the 1962 period was reported today by the Kenmar Manufacturing Co. in a semi-annual letter to stockholders.

Robert A. Maurer of Columbi-ana, president of the furniture concern, said volume was up 10 per cent in January-June over the corresponding period of 1962.

Net profits were listed at $4,558, compared to a loss of $10,000 for the same period last year.

July showed a 38 per cent increase over the past year, and prospects for autumn business "look good," Maurer said.

Decorating a cake? Chocolate shot and candied orange slices make a simple pretty garnish for chocolate or white frosting. The orange slices can usually be found at a candy counter.

Area Schools Due Crucible Steel Films

For the fourth consecutive year, district schools will receive, for classroom showing, monthly Screen News Digest films donated by the Crucible Steel Co.

The first film for the 1963-64 school year was distributed this week to school superintendents in Midland, East Liverpool and Beaver.

Released in 10 monthly issues during the school year, the aim of the film program is to provide students with an awareness of significant current events and an understanding of their impact on the lives of all.

The films are available to all schools — public and parochial — in the Midland, East Liverpool and Beaver areas and may be obtained for showing by contacting the school superintendents.

Forthcoming issues will turn to history, both present and past, to provide a graphic supplement for classroom use and discussion. The Screen News Digest reviews the background of today's happenings to provide a guide to the developments that can be expected in the future, sponsors said.

Students returning to school this month will take an exclusive motion picture journey behind the "Bamboo Curtain." In "The Dragon and the Bear — Communism In Conflict," the film explores and explains the implications of the grave ideological split between Communist Russia and Red China.

2 Wellsville Police Lodges Plan Picnic

The annual joint picnic of Wellsville Fraternal Order of Police Lodge 11 and its civilian affiliate, FOP Associates, will be held Sunday beginning at noon at Harry Skelton's farm.

The farm is located 300 yards north of the junction of Routes 7 and 30 on Route 7.

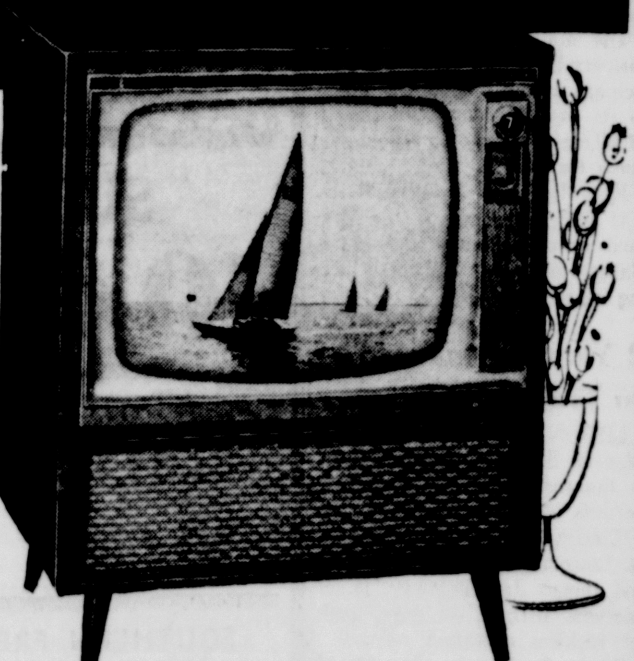

Notices sent out by the lodges on the picnic gave the wrong directions, it was reported.

Wellsville Schools Join In Constitution Week

Wellsville schools will co-operate with the Bethia Southwick Chapter of the Daughters of American Revolution in "Constitution Week" observances beginning Tuesday.

Supt. Lowell B. Myers approved participation all week in classroom studies in the entire school system.

In the High School, of which William Menough is principal, the study of the Constitution will be taken up in Social Study Classes, which include almost the entire student body.

Donald Lowe, principal of Daw Junior High School, announced the Constitution will be discussed, what it means and what rights are enjoyed as citizens. The signing of the Constitution and the quality of men signing it will be emphasized.

John Mackcov, principal of MacDonald School, plans to have the Constitution reviewed during social studies, to have panel and oral reports and correlate it with the arts program.

In the Garfield School, of which Samuel M. Linger is principal, pupils in the higher grades will hear the "Preamble" and will review the book, "You and the Constitution of the United States" (Witty).

Under the direction of Lester Bickie, principal, pupils of Fairview and McKinley Schools will hear the Constitution and teachers will talk to the younger pupils about it.

The Preamble and the Constitution will be reviewed at No. 16 and Highlandtown Schools, of which Mrs. Freda Schubert and Jerry Russell are the principals, respectively.

Fr. Gerald Curran said the immaculate Conception Parochial School pupils will study the Constitution and what it means to them and essays will be written.

Merchants will co-operate by flying flags and placing placards in their windows and in some instances there will be displays. Spot announcements will be given all week over WOHI. Pastors will give five-minute talks during the morning service Sunday, Mrs. C. J. Vogel, chairman, asked all residents to fly flags all week beginning Tuesday.

The observance of "Constitution Week" began in 1955 when the National Society of the DAR originated the idea of devoting an entire week to the Constitution by extending the period of observance beyond the one day of Sept. 17.

The outstanding success of this undertaking led to approval by Congress of a joint resolution authorizing the designation by the President of "Constitution Week" beginning Sept. 17 each year.

"It is a period for thoughtful study and consideration of the events that led to the framing of the Constitution and of the means for preserving it from those who could destroy or weaken it," sponsors said.

The Bethia Southwick Chapter will meet Friday night in the recreation room of the W. C. Bunting Co. with Mrs. D. T. O'Hara and Mrs. Delmar O'Hara Jr. as hostesses. Guest speaker will be the Rev. Russell Mase of the Emmanuel Presbyterian Church of East Liverpool.

Brush Creek Grange Elects

Robert Lawrence has been elected to a third consecutive term as master of Brush Creek Grange on the Ironside Salineville Rd.

Other officers are Franklin Rose, overseer; Mrs. Helen Jackman, lecturer; Frank Russell Jr., steward; Mrs. Mildred Carman, assistant steward; Mrs. Shirley Dallas, chaplain.

Mrs. Jean Thomas, treasurer; Mrs. Martha Burgett, secretary; Phil Maher, gatekeeper; Mrs. Doris Russell, Ceres; Miss Linda Dallas, Pomona; Mrs. Freda Householder, Flora.

Mrs. Martha Morgan, lady assistant steward; Russell, trustee; Mrs. Helen Jackman, executive committee member; Mrs. Martha Burgett, legislative agent, and Mrs. Pauline Lawrence, news reporter.

A membership contest is under way, with the losing team to serve a turkey dinner to the winners. Next meeting is Wednesday.

Course Offered In Farm Science

Applications now are being accepted for the seventh annual short course in agriculture for young farmers to be held Jan. 6 to Feb. 28, 1964, at Ohio State University.

Sponsored by the College of Agriculture and Home Economics, the eight-week course will have as its theme "Science and Business in Agriculture." The program will offer non-credit instruction in a variety of areas concerning efficient operation of a farm.

The course has been organized to present up-to-date information and to provide intensive training for the young farmer in the practical application of the principles of agricultural science and business. Classes will involve discussions, lectures, field trips, laboratory sessions and examinations.

Scholarships for the program are available on a county and statewide basis from farm bureau cooperative organizations, various farmers' clubs, banks and other organizations. The scholarships will provide from $75 to $150.

Persons interested in applying for scholarships should contact their county extension agent, vocational agriculture teacher, or write Chester S. Hutchison, College of Agriculture and Home Economics, 2120 Fyffe Rd., Columbus, O., 43210.

Meeting Planned On Scholarships

The East Liverpool Area Citizens Scholarship Foundation will meet Tuesday night at 7:45 in Westgate School and residents of the school districts of Midland, South Side at Hookstown and Western Beaver at Industry have been invited to send representatives.

The foundation conducts the "Dollars for Scholars" drive fund late in the winter.

The Midland, South Side and Western Beaver area plans to participate in the foundation, which in its first year awarded nearly 20 scholarships to high school students for college.

Earl Rankin of Industry R. D. 1 is acting chairman of the Midland area committee and Mrs. Harry Henkin of Midland is acting secretary.

2 Youths Penalized In Traffic Violations

LISBON — Traffic Court hearings at the Courthouse resulted in the suspension of the driving permits of two motorists.

Charles W. Buckley, 17, of 620 W. Lincoln Way received 90 days and Dennis Jay Holloway, 16, of Leetonia R.D. 1, 60 days, both for reckless operation.

Edwin R. Dangler Jr., 17, of Salem R.D. 3, was fined $15 fine for reckless operation; Lynn Daniel Seeger, 17, of New Springfield, $15, and Joseph John Zarnosky, 17, of Columbiana R.D. 2, $5, each for failing to stop within the assured clear distance.

Robert James Stinson, 15, of Lisbon R.D. 4 was fined for driving without an operator's license.

Melvin Eugene Bricker, 17, of Leetonia R.D. 2 was given a warning for driving with a defective muffler. All were cited by the State Highway Patrol.

Former Chester PTA Groups Set Meeting

Plans for a public meeting of all parents and teachers of Grades 1 through 9 in Chester were made at a meeting of former officers of the Chester Central Parent-Teacher Association, the Washington Home & School Association and present officers of the Chester Elementary PTA.

The meeting will be held Oct. 2 at the Chester Junior High School auditorium, Mrs. Wilbert Sayers, president of the Elementary PTA, said.

Plans will be aired on the future PTA organization for Chester as a result of the new school alignment in the city.

Chester Area Power Cutoff Set Sunday

A three-hour electric power suspension in the rural areas east of Chester has been scheduled for Sunday by the Monongahela Power Co. to permit a switchover to new distribution lines.

Service will be shut off from 8 to 11 a. m. while crews put into operation one phase of a new substation in Tinsionville, Walter Jordan, Chester district manager, said.

The areas affected will include Route 30 from Johnstonville Rd. to the Pennsylvania line; Route 2 from Route 30 south to G. S. Valley Rd. and east of Route 20 to Pennsylvania; the Hilltop Drive-In area; Middle Run Rd. a mile north of Route 2 and Shepherd Valley south to Tomlinson Run.

The present 7,200-volt distribution lines for the affected areas will be converted to 12,000-volt operation.

A similar switchover is planned later for lines serving the Johnstonville and Lawrence areas.

In event of bad weather Sunday, the work will be rescheduled for Sept. 22, Jordan said.

Junior Editors Quiz on MATCHES

QUESTION: Of what are matches made?

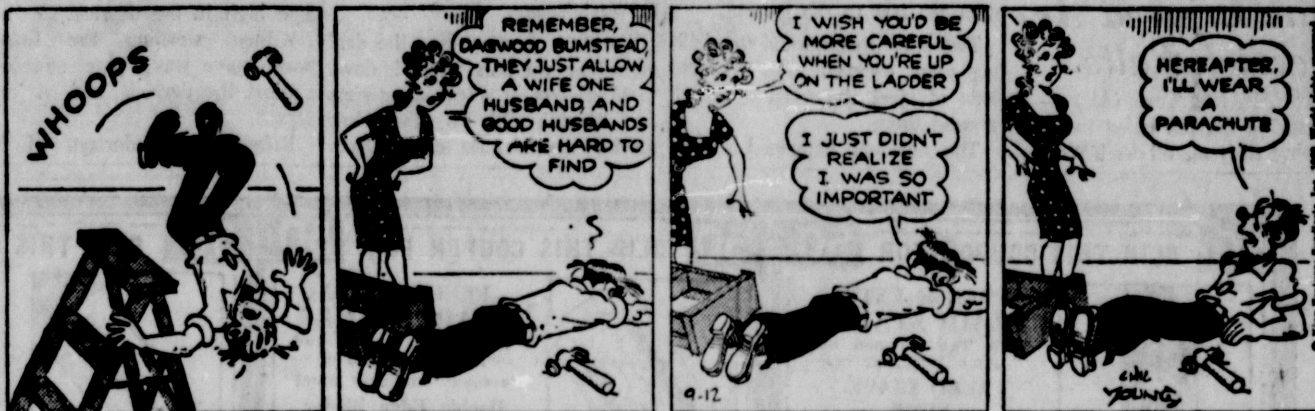

ANSWER: The wooden kind of matches which will strike anywhere are made of sticks sliced from sheets of wood veneer which have been dipped into a fireproofing solution. This prevents afterglow and keeps them from turning into ashes after burning. The matches are also dipped in paraffin which brings the flame from the head to the wooden part so it will burn. The white part of the tip, or eye, is made with sesquioxide of phosphorus. Although the other part of the head burns, it will not burn when first struck, and it prevents the eyes of the matches from rubbing against each other.

Although very useful, these wooden matches are also dangerous; rats and mice may light them by gnawing and many fires have been caused by children playing with them. The safety match, which has a head coated with chlorate of potash, can only be struck against another bit of material compounded of red phosphorus and sand. Book matches, made of paperboard, were dangerous at first because the striking surface was inside the book and striking a match might set off the whole book. When this striking part was placed outside, however, book matches became very popular.

FOR YOU TO DO: Before striking a book match, slip cover inside bottom part for safety. How about collecting match book covers? Most collectors like to specialize like the boy in the picture, whose covers all deal with birds.

Robert Erwin Gease of Marion, Ohio, wins the daily grand prize of a 20-volume set of World Book Encyclopedia for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of The Review and you too may win a set.

2 Men Killed, One Injured As Derrick Falls

MONAHANS, Tex. (AP) — A collapsing derrick killed two men helping drill an oil well Wednesday night. A third suffered serious injuries as he was hurled more than 100 feet to the ground.

Two other members of the drilling crew escaped injury as 200 tons of steel showered down all around them. The accident happened shortly before midnight at a well being drilled 45 miles southwest of here in West Texas.

Workmen were pulling the drill stem from the hole, which is down to 18,504 feet in a test being sunk for Rhoden Oil Co. they had stacked about 17,500 feet of heavy pipe against what is known as the finger board, which supports the pipe high in the derrick.

Without warning the finger board gave way, pipe smashed against the derrick and it collapsed. Robert J. Henderson, 24, of Odessa, Tex., was killed as he fell from the rig floor, which stood 28 feet above ground.

A heavy piece of the rig from near the top struck and killed Philip Crittendon, 18, of Monahans. J.B. Morris, 44, of Monahans tumbled from the top of the derrick, which reached 108 feet into the air.

Mexico plans to transform Tumbaco, a southeastern state slightly larger than New Jersey, into a Garden State.

Ohio Woman Claimed By Accident Injuries

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—An Ohio woman died in a Charleston hospital Wednesday of injuries suffered in an auto accident in Boone County three weeks ago.
